VOL. L, No. 108. ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT THE POSTOFFICE AT MARION, OHIO MARION, OHIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1927 TWENTY PAGES PRICE, THREE CENTS

Sixty Thousand Peeps "Peep" Each Week in Marion's Hatcheries

THIS city is rapidly approaching the point where it will become the chief center of the "baby chick" industry of the United States.

With the poultry hatching season now entering the busiest month of the year — April being the time when the baby chick output reaches its greatest volume — reports from local hatcheries indicate that the close of 1927 is certain to find Marion very near national leadership in this line of business.

Last year the Ohls Co., which has its main plant and office here and operates hatcheries in a number of other places, had an output of 1,870,000 chicks and it is expected that the 1927 total will reach 2,000,000. Harry E. Ohls, president and general manager of the company, stated today that this year's production and sales are showing an increase of from 15 to 20 per cent.

AT this time the Ohls Co. is the second largest hatchery concern in the country, its production and sales being exceeded by only one competitor, a company located in Illinois. With business of the local company growing rapidly, there is every likelihood that within a few years, and possibly by the close of this year, it will be leading its Illinois rival.

Approximately 60,000 baby chicks are now being hatched here each week and sold to a market which extends throughout Ohio and a number of eastern and southern states. This average will continue throughout April, local hatchery managers state.

Of the 60,000 approximately, 53,000 come from the local Ohls plant and 7,000 from the plant of the Marion Hatchery Co., located on the Harding Highway, about three miles east of the city. The Ohls hatchery is a short distance north of the city on the Upper Sandusky pk and the company also has an uptown office and storage house at 198 N. Prospect-st.

ONLY a small percentage of the baby chicks are sold locally, the bulk going to an outside market in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and other eastern states as well as scattered southern points down to Florida. All of the shipments are made by parcels post, making the local postoffice the second most important in the country in connection with the baby chick business.

Twelve years ago the Ohls Co. started operations here with an incubator capacity of 3,000 eggs and today it has incubator equipment of 625,000 capacity at two local hatcheries and five scattered elsewhere.

The plant north of the city has eight incubators of 180,000 capacity and this year the company took charge of the H. E. Bush hatchery on Boone-av, which has a 45,000-egg equipment. Other plants and their incubator facilities are as follows: Waldo, 50,000, Ashley, 20,000, Circleville 60,000, Marysville 120,000 and Marshall, Mo., 150,000.

PRODUCTION from all of the company's plants is now averaging 150,000 baby chicks weekly. This is the peak production of the year, which almost invariably comes in April.

The Marion Hatchery Co., managed by H. H. Connolly, east of the city, has a 45,000 incubator capacity. This hatchery has been in operation six years and the business is growing steadily, Mr. Connolly states.

All of the baby chicks hatched by the Ohls Co. as well as the Marion Hatchery are high grade stock which sell at prices ranging from 14 cents to $2 each. The $2 chicks come from pedigreed stock of the highest class.

A large portion of the egg supply of New York and other eastern cities comes from hens developed from baby chicks hatched here, Mr. Ohls states. Most of the chicks are sold to farmers who specialize in egg production. Seventy orders received by the Ohls Co. thus far this year were for shipments of from 1,000 to 5,000 chicks to egg farmers who supply the New York City market.

EVEN so, China is now boycotting American goods. It doesn't take the seventh son of a seventh son to guess that China's dislike will be toward the United States, if possible.

FOUR hundred million Chinese have got to cool down; there's no use planning to shoot them down. You could not do it even if your conscience, directed by your pocketbook, would let you try.

A FAMOUS boar named Colonel Broadcaster and 14 other pedigreed American swine were sent to Greece yesterday. The mountains that look on Marathon will soon see finer pigs rooting along the beach than they ever saw before.

POETRY is above pigs, but pigs that America sends to Greece will do Greece more good than the poetry that Byron wrote.

Greece has won for herself the freedom that Bryon wished her. She couldn't win without foreign help such a pedigreed pig as Broadcaster.

They might as well debate, "Should the Moon Be Made of Green Cheese!" The eighteenth amendment will not be taken out of the constitution.

BUT the Volstead act, which interprets the eighteenth amendment, might be replaced by another act interpreting it otherwise.

What, if anything, should be done to the Volstead act, to which many attribute our bootleggers, hijackers, high school whisky drinkers and crime wave?

THAT is a reasonable question.

SECRETARY HOOVER says the railroads are now in fine condition, supplying "completely adequate service." He thinks this "vindicates private ownership."

It shows at least that private ownership is working well, as it will may when government guarantees railroad owners good earnings, including interest on their mistakes and much water.

Private ownership of railroads is going to stay as long as prosperity stays, everybody knows that. If things become very bad of course railroads would say to the government, "please take us."

It should not be overlooked, and Secretary Hoover knows it, that the United States postoffice gives "completely adequate service," and is not under private ownership. Mr. Hoover couldn't imagine any private enterprise carrying a letter from the southern tip of Florida to the northern end of Alaska for two cents.

TWO PRY WAY OUT OF CITY JAIL

Marion Man Outwits Gang of Swindlers

FOILS PLOTTERS IN CONFIDENCE GAME, REPORT

Familiarity with Details of "Old Pocketbook" Ruse Prevents Loss of $20,000

STAGED IN SPRINGFIELD

Identity of Intended Victim Not Disclosed; Police Arrive Too Late

An attempt of a gang of swindlers to fleece a Marion business man out of $20,000 in a confidence game, failed to materialize at Springfield when the intended victim became aware that he was being cast for the role of an easy mark and escaped from the plotters.

The Marion man, who is reputed to be wealthy, according to a newspaper report of the incident received today from Springfield, but whose identity is not disclosed, went at once to Springfield police headquarters and reported the plot.

Lieut. Abele of the Springfield police force sent four of his men to the hotel where the swindlers had established their headquarters but the officers arrived too late. Between the time that the Marion man had made his getaway and arrival of the police the bunco gang had checked out. No trace of them could be found.

Surmises Foul Play

All that saved the Marionite from being separated from his $20,000 was the fact that the game which the swindlers attempted to work was an old one and that he was familiar with its details.

It is known as the "old pocketbook game," and when its opening operations were started by the confidence men, it was immediately recognized by the man they had selected for the "goat."

Officials stated it as their belief that the gang of swindlers was the

DE PINEDO TRIES TO RAISE PLANE ENGINE

Italian Flier Must Await Arrival of New Craft from Overseas

Roosevelt Lake, Ariz., April 7—Delayed, disappointed, but determined to continue his intercontinent flight, Commander Francesco De Pinedo, whose giant monoplane, the Santa Maria, was destroyed by fire as preparations were being made to hop off for San Diego yesterday, today supervised attempts to raise the engine of his plane from the waters of the lake.

Putting the Santa Maria in condition for resumption of the flight is deemed impossible, so Commander De Pinedo will have to await the arrival of a sister ship of the Santa Maria before the flight can proceed. This, he said, he was willing to do.

The flight will be continued from here, according to the Italian airman.

ITALY SENDING NEW PLANE TO DE PINEDO

Rome, April 7—A new military airplane today was started on its journey to the United States for use by Commander Francesco De Pinedo, Italian intercontinental flyer, whose plane was burned at Lake Roosevelt, Arizona, yesterday.

It is an ordinary military plane of the kind used in the Italian army and is of the S-55 model. It was sent to Genoa on a special train to catch the first steamer leaving for New York.

LARGEST OHIO VALLEY GRAVEL CONCERN SOLD

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 7—Sale of the Ohio River Gravel Co., the largest sand and gravel producing operation in the Ohio Valley was announced here today by company officials. The properties have been sold to Guerr Vang, president of the Vang Construction Co. of Pittsburgh. The deal is said to have involved more than $1,000,000.

PREPARE FOR PROLONGED TIE-UP OF OHIO MINES

Railroad Forces Cut Down in State's Bituminous Coal District

New Lexington, April 7—With the passage of the first week of the miners' suspension of work, operators and miners in the Perry County fields today were laying their plans for a prolonged tie-up.

It is reported here that one small local mine of 300 tons daily capacity has been sold since the suspension for $250.

County commissioners in Perry, Athens and Hocking Counties have announced they can use 500 miners in road-building work by May 1.

Railroads in this section are curtailing their freight service as a result of the shutdown, the New York Central having laid off 15 train crews in and out of Corning, and about 100 other employes between Athens and New Lexington, with more reductions scheduled to follow.

400 WORKMEN GIVEN LAY-OFF

Columbus, April 7 — Four hundred employes of the New York Central railroad, Ohio Central divisions, have been laid off since April 1, because of the shutdown of Ohio mines, it was declared here today by J. J. Brinworth, superintendent here.

He reported that no general layoff had been ordered over the state but that each division was being instructed to plan its own personnel to conform with its individual requirements. Most of the men laid off so far, Brinkworth point out are train crews, with the exception of Kenton, where a reduction in the shops took place.

MAN KILLED, GIRL HURT IN CRASH NEAR DAYTON

Dayton, April 7—Herbert Gerhart, 22, was killed and his companion, Miss Stella Weaver, 16, suffered a fractured skull early today when their car collided with one driven by C. A. Ward, near Ellerton, south of Dayton. Both Gerhart and Miss Weaver live near New Germantown. Neither Ward nor his wife who occupied his car with him was injured.

FEDERAL OPERATIVES CONTINUE DAYTON DRIVE

Dayton, April 7—Federal operatives continued their drive here which up to late last night had resulted in 24 arrests in connection with the "clean-up" of the liquor situation in Dayton. Warrants charging conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act were to be issued today, it was said, against many of the persons arrested.

CRACK LIMITED IS HELD UP BY PAIR OUTSIDE CHICAGO

Bandits Board Train as It Leaves Joliet; Conductor, Expressman and Two Others Bound and Gagged; Loot Estimated from $2,500 to $20,000

Chicago, April 7—The southwestern fringe of Chicago was being combed today for two bandits who last night held up the Lincoln Limited, crack Chicago and Alton passenger train, and escaped with loot variously estimated at between $2,500 and $20,000. Only the baggage car was entered. None of the passengers nor the engine crew was aware of the robbery.

The bandits boarded the train as it moved out of Joliet at 9:30 o'clock last night. One wore an army overcoat. They donned black net masks, drew revolvers and pushed their way into the baggage car.

There they encountered Conductor James Connery and A. A. Gotthoff, express messenger. Connery was bound and gagged and rolled in a corner. Before Gotthoff could execute their order to open the safe, Frank Wenglass, diner chef, and George Mitchell, a porter, walked into the car.

Roll 'Em Into Corner

Undismayed, the bandits calmly tied up Wenglass and Mitchell and rolled them in the corner with Connery. Gotthoff was then forced to open the safe. The bandits took the entire contents and sorted it carefully. Currency and negotiable papers were divided equally between them.

All other papers, including non-negotiable bonds, were piled on the floor of the car and burned. The bandits then trussed up Gotthoff and rolled him against the others. After going through their victims' pockets, obtaining about $150 more, the bandits left the train.

One swung off at Western-av and the other at Halsted-st.

Reports Are Varied

The robbery was discovered when the diner steward came to see what was detaining his chef. He had sent the chef to the safe with the diner's evening receipts.

First reports received by local police stated the loss was "less than $200," listing only the money taken from members of the train crew.

While express company officials refused to estimate the loss, Gotthoff told Lieut. Andrew Howard of the Union Station police that the entire contents of the safe were taken or destroyed, and stated their value would probably exceed $20,000.

LARGER FORCE AMBITION OF SHOVEL OWNERS

Vice President of Purchasing Concern Says Plan Is To Develop Industry

Plans for forming the new corporation which will take charge of the management of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. as the result of purchase of the industry by W. A. Harriman & Co., Inc., of New York City, were well under way today with prospects of completion next week.

At the same time, details in connection with the re-financing program are being worked out through the law firm of Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery of this city in conjunction with New York attorneys. A full announcement of the finance plan is expected to be made early next week.

According to tentative arrangements, the new corporation will issue securities consisting of bonds, preferred stock and common stock, the amount of which will be designated in the prospectus now being prepared. The common stock is to be issued on a no par basis and the majority will be retained by Harriman & Co. The preferred stock and bonds will bear the interest rate prevailing on the security market at this time.

Expect Demand

Due to prestige of Harriman & Co., which is one of the largest investment banking concerns in the country, and to the firmly established business of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., it is anticipated that the securities will be in great demand and that the issues will be quickly over-subscribed.

Complete arrangements for the sale have been made with the state securities department at Columbus, so that

AUTO THEFT RING

Confession Reveals Parts of Giant Operations

Cincinnati, April 7—A score or more of additional arrests throughout the country were expected today as department of justice agents here and in a dozen other cities, delved further into the national ramifications of a highly organized ring of automobile thieves which was uncovered Wednesday.

According to local police and department of justice operatives, the activities of the ring were exposed through the confession in Indianapolis Monday of Rupert Puthoff, 33, who was brought here, heavily guarded, yesterday to further bare the alleged workings of the ring.

The majority of the automobiles were stolen in Indianapolis and Chicago, it was said, Cincinnati, Louisville, Detroit, Cleveland and Miami, Fla., being the main marketing points.

MANY CHILDREN UNDERWEIGHT IN SCHOOLS, CLAIM

53 Out of 88 Grade Pupils Examined Register Below Normal

WORK NEARLY COMPLETE

City Board of Health Hears Report; Progress in Work Is Shown

Annual physical examinations of children in the local schools, from the first to seventh grades, is now nearing completion and will be brought to a conclusion within the next two months, the Marion Board of Health was informed by Dr. W. J. Weiser, city health commissioner, at the board's monthly meeting held yesterday afternoon.

All first grade pupils are being examined by Dr. Weiser, with the assistance of the three public health nurses. The nurses have charge of the work in the upper grades. The work in these grades is classed as inspection, rather than examination, the purpose being to ascertain the results of the first grade surveys of former years.

Last month, Dr. Weiser reported, 251 first grade pupils were examined, as follows: Silver-st school, 78; Lincoln school, 88; St. Mary's parochial, 40; Davids-st, 45.

53 Underweight

The report on 88 of the pupils examined showed that 53 were underweight. This is an unusually high percentage, the health commissioner stated. Forty-two were found to have slightly or moderately enlarged tonsils, 10 per cent had very large and diseased tonsils, 20 had vision slightly below normal, and the vision tests of six showed that they need glasses.

There were 38 cases of defective teeth, two of nervous instability, two rapid heart action, one skin disease, 12 with enlarged cervical glands, six "mouth breathers," one "pigeon breasted," and one defective speech.

Reports of a large number of defects discovered in former examinations having been remedied indicated that the health board's school work is getting satisfactory results.

Dr. Weiser also reported that during March three cases of tuberculosis, one of diphtheria and two of scarlet fever came under his supervision.

Mrs. Walter E. Hune, public health nurse, conducted an inspection in all grades from the second to seventh at Mark-st building, last month, an examination including 264 pupils. The

THIRD VENIRE CALLED FOR CONNEAUT TRIAL

Eleven Tentative Jurors Seated; Accused Youth Indifferent; Man Near Breakdown

Jefferson, April 7—A third venire of prospective jurors was called today in the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16-year-old youth, charged with the slaying of Fred Brown, Jr., 5, and under indictment charged with killing the boy's mother, Mrs. Fred Brown. The second venire was exhausted Wednesday, with 11 tentative jurors seated.

In answer to a question as to whether they had formed any opinion regarding the crime, a majority of those examined replied in the affirmative, and great difficulty is being experienced in selecting a twelfth competent juror.

Throughout the proceedings, Hewitt sits seemingly undisturbed. The most pathetic figure in the courtroom is Fred Brown, Sr., husband and father of the victims of the brutal shooting in Conneaut, last Feb. 14. Wearing glasses, constantly he strains to look down under the heavy brows of his head.

INSPECTORS ARE NAMED FOR WAR ON BORER HERE

Four Men Selected for Work in County; Four Government Tractors Arrive

The federal end of the corn borer campaign swung into action today with the arrival of four government tractors and stubble pulverizers for use in Marion County.

The supervisor and the four inspectors who will have charge of the government machinery in the county have also been appointed by L. H. Worthley, federal administrator at Toledo, according to word received by Banks Collings, in charge of the educational work in Marion County.

The four inspectors in Marion County are all farmers, who have considerable acreage to clean up on their own farms. The inspectors and the districts they will have charge of are:

A. H. Trout, Marion and Claridon Townships.

O. H. Howser, Tully, Scott and the east half of Grand Prairie Townships.

James Washburn, Big Island, Salt Rock and the west half of Grand Prairie Townships.

H. W. Cookston, Montgomery and Grand Townships.

Only Temporary

The assignments to this territory are only temporary and may be shifted later as the work progresses.

The supervisor for this county and for Wyandot County is to be Foster L. Finkel, of Upper Sandusky.

Besides the government tractors and stubble pulverizers to be used in this country, Finkel has received 11 Chevrolet half-ton trucks, four of which will be in use by the inspectors in Marion County in their work. The others will be used by Finkel and the other inspectors in Wyandot County. The corn borer campaign in Marion and Wyandot Counties is to be coordinated, with Finkel at the head of the inspection forces of the government in both counties.

The four men who are in charge of inspection work in Marion County are owners of 853 acres of land in this county, one-fourth of which was in corn last year.

To Use Tractors

These four tractors and stubble pulverizers are to be put to work at once wherever the fields are dry enough to carry the tractors. They will be worked constantly until every field where they are needed is covered.

Collings announced today that farmers should get in touch with the inspector of the district in which they live and make arrangements for the use of the tractor and stubble pulverizer on their land. The inspectors should be called at their homes, or if farmers cannot reach them there applications may be filed with Collings who makes his headquarters at the Farm Bureau office in Marion.

MEN HELD ON THEFT CHARGES MAKE ESCAPE

Howard Arthur and Charles Martin Flee Local Prison; Sought by Police

LONE PRISONER REMAINS

Pair Use Plank from Steps To Force Lock of Rear Door

Howard Arthur, 25, and Charles Martin, 23, under arrest on an automobile theft charge, escaped from the city prison last night by prying open an iron grating over the rear entrance and no trace of them has been found by police here and in nearby cities who have been searching for them since their break for liberty.

George Daily, 48, the only other man in the prison, was asleep when the two men staged their escape and did not awaken until he became chilled by cold air coming through the open doorway. He could have taken advantage of the opportunity to gain his freedom but instead notified Police Sergeant L. E. Reardon, on night desk duty, that his fellow roomers at the prison had disappeared.

The escape took place between 10 o'clock, when Daily fell asleep, and 1 o'clock, when he was awakened by the prison turning cold.

Locked in Corridor

The three prisoners had been left in the prison corridor, police having regarded locking them in the cells as unnecessary, due to the fact that all were held for comparatively minor offenses and the supposition that they would make no attempt to escape.

The door over the rear entrance was unlocked, leaving only the iron grating standing in the way of the two men and their freedom. They pried the grating lock from its socket with a plank taken from a wooden stair casing in the prison.

Arthur and Martin were scheduled for arraignment at 10 o'clock this morning on the charge of having stolen an automobile from Floyd Case of this city. They pleaded not guilty when taken before Municipal Judge Martin, Tuesday, following their arrest in Ironton, last Friday. Their former address in this city was 588 Silver-st.

Claim They Bought Car

When first brought into court, the two men claimed that the automobile had been purchased by them. Case, however, said that it was his property and had been stolen from his garage. The value of the machine was estimated by Case at $50.

Daily was given a hearing in Municipal Court this morning and was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $500. He has been unable to furnish bond thus far and will probably be taken to the county jail to await grand jury action.

Daily is accused of having cashed a $10 check at the Train produce store on N. Main-st without having funds in the bank. The check was returned marked "insufficient funds." The charge against Daily was filed by F. G. Tuhy.

Two other men, arrested in connection with Daily's case, were released and released several days ago. It is claimed that several northern checks bearing Daily's name were cashed.

Washington, April 7—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, who came to Washington in effort of presidential clemency to escape serving a sentence of a year and a day for perjury growing out of the famous "bathtub party" apparently has failed in his mission.

REAL ESTATE LICENSE BILL BEFORE SENATE

Measure Scheduled for Vote Today Eliminates Objectionable Features, Claim

Features of the plan for licensing of real estate dealers in Ohio to which Governor Donahey has objected have been eliminated in a bill scheduled for a vote in the senate today and it is now regarded as certain that the license system will be in operation within the next few months, according to local real estate men.

The amended bill was formally approved by a unanimous vote of the senate judiciary committee this week and tentative arrangements were made to bring it up for action in the senate today. Among those in attendance at the committee meeting were J. W. Jacoby, Marion attorney who is chairman of the legislative committee of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Dealers and who has been active in advocating inauguration of the license system for several years.

Approves Bill

Cyrus Locher, director of commerce in Governor Donahey's cabinet, was also present as the governor's personal representative. The amended bill was approved by him, which is taken to indicate that it will be signed by the governor if passed by the senate and house. The original license bill, passed two years ago, was vetoed by the governor, who also disapproved an emergency appropriation measure recently enacted to provide funds for putting the license system into effect.

The governor's chief objections related to punctuation in the bill, which he believed changed its meaning and in many respects rendered it invalid.

Should the amended bill be passed and signed by the governor, it will require all persons engaging in the real estate business on a commission basis to pass an examination and to show that they possess various essential qualifications. Issuing of permits will be in charge of a state board of examiners.

40 Affected Here

It is estimated that there are approximately 40 real estate dealers and salesmen in Marion who would come under the provisions of the bill.

The proposal, which is sponsored by the state organization of real estate dealers, is intended to prevent unscrupulous persons from engaging in the business. About 20 other states have similar systems in use, Ohio realtors say.

MINER-MINISTER TO ATTEMPT CHANNEL SWIM

Left to right: Rev. Harold O. Teagarden with the A. E. F. in France; in the pulpit of the Sewellsville, O., church to the right; and as a miner.

SEWELLSVILLE, O., April 7—A minister, Rev. Harold O. Teagarden, pastor of the Sewellsville church, plans to equal the feat of others in swimming Catalina channel, California.

"I'll be the first minister of the gospel to swim the channel just to show the world that a preacher is just as modern as any other person—and just as nervy," says the minister. "I'm tired of being called an 'old fogy' and 'sappy' by the younger generation."

The fiery pastor's challenge to youth has stirred up the region in which Reverend Teagarden has been preaching for the last thirteen years.

The parson has been sitting calm. He has announced he would exercise his right to a Sabbatical year—a year of "rest" granted every preacher after seven consecutive years of labor.

Can the minister swim the channel? Is he in shape?

Keeps in Trim

The pioneering preacher has never been out of shape since he left the A. E. F. in France where he spent a year and a half as athletic director at boxing, swimming, football, baseball, and a score of other things. But to make sure of the fact, the modernist preacher has opened a full fledged coal mine on his ten-acre farm and spends his spare time digging fuel for his family and neighbors.

In fact the preacher was deep under the hill when a reporter called on him, and even refused an interview until he had "shot down" a cut of coal. Then he told his story.

Reverend Teagarden and his family plan to start for the coast on June 1 in their auto and will camp out enroute.

GERMAN WOMEN DEMAND EASIER DIVORCE LAWS

"Intellectuals" Are in Favor of "Reform" in Existing Marital Legislation

Berlin, April 7 — Prominent intellectual women in Germany are in favor of a reform of the existing divorce law. Divorce should be made easier, they say, and a marriage should be annuled as soon as both parties cannot get along with each other, regardless of whether one of them is guilty of an offense, that is infidelity, or not.

All these women advocate such a reform in the interest of the children. They all agree that children growing up in a home where the parents disagree suffer terribly and much more if the parents remain together than if they were divorced.

"I feel sorry for children growing up in such a poisoned atmosphere," says Marie von Bunsen, famous scientist. "Such a marriage should be divorced in the interest of the children."

Franziska Mann, famous novelist, favors a "trial divorce" for a period of two years, after which the couple might live together again, if they want to.

Frau Hedwig Heyl, president of the German Hausfrauen Vercine believe that people marry too young, and for physical reasons mostly. "I feel a woman is mature for marriage at 70," she added smilingly when interviewed.

Sinclair Not in Jail Yet, Say Wiseacres of Capital

Already Three Years Have Passed Since He Turned Deaf Ear to Questions

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, April 7—Although though the cynic who said, 'You can't convict a million dollars,' has been proved wrong—for weren't Harry F. Sinclair and his millions convicted of contempt of the United States senate?—it remains to be seen whether or not jail bars for any such amount of money.

THOMAS GREGORY

Even the Sinclair prosecution admits there may be several slip-ups between the verdict against Harry and the day when prison doors slam, on the old magazine inside 'em.

It's more than three years already since Sinclair turned a deaf ear to questions of the senate public lands and surveys committee concerning the means by which his mammoth Oil Co. got its lease to the navy 'Teapot Dome' petroleum reserve. Nobody imagines it will be less than another couple of years, at the soonest before the federal supreme court passes on the contempt case, with the term behind the bar that goes with it. When that time comes, maybe the cynic above referred to will still be in a position to say, "You can't beat a million dollars on appeal anyway."

AT that, the consensus of Washington legal opinion is that Sinclair's two heavy weight lawyers Martin W. Littleton and George P. Hoover haven't much to congratulate themselves on, in that they didn't get their client off as well as Attorney Frank J. Hogan did for his customer, E. L. Doheny.

Doheny had hard luck with his civil suit, to hang onto his Elk Hills oil lands, but they didn't stick him on a criminal charge, at all events.

It's true that Sinclair's term won't be very long, at the worst. Yet the charge of the counsel's legal knowledge that was brought out on his possible stay in the penitentiary is only one month, and not one lawyer I've noted that he'd have preferred four months.

THE judgment of court officials who watched both the Fall-Doheny and Sinclair trials, is that Doheny in particular, and to some extent Fall, got the benefit of considerable human sympathy that didn't go out so warmly to Sinclair.

Doheny, on the witness stand, got in some popular licks about his early days in the Wild West, his experiences as a busher in a cheap restaurant, his adventures as a mule skinner and his wanderings as a "desert rat," with an empty canteen and bad Indians and rattlesnakes "laying" for him back of every sage bush and cactus plant.

It was romantic and exciting. And here he was—a "poor old man" of 70, with his arm in a sling, and all that kind of stuff!

Fall wasn't so effective, but he profited some by the overflow.

Sinclair, on the contrary, gives the impression of "soft hands and a hard face"—refered to by the late Colonel Roosevelt.

Hogan made the most of Doheny as a regular old pioneer, which Littleton and Hoover couldn't do to such good advantage with Sinclair, because he wasn't one. He was a druggist.

ANOTHER thing Sinclair's friends have complained bitterly about from the first was that darned name—Teapot Dome.

If the thing had simply been referred to as Naval Oil Reserve No. So-and-so, they say the case never would have had any such popular appeal as it did have.

But "Teapot Dome" lent itself to every paragrapher and cartoonist in the whole country and the publicity they gave it did the business.

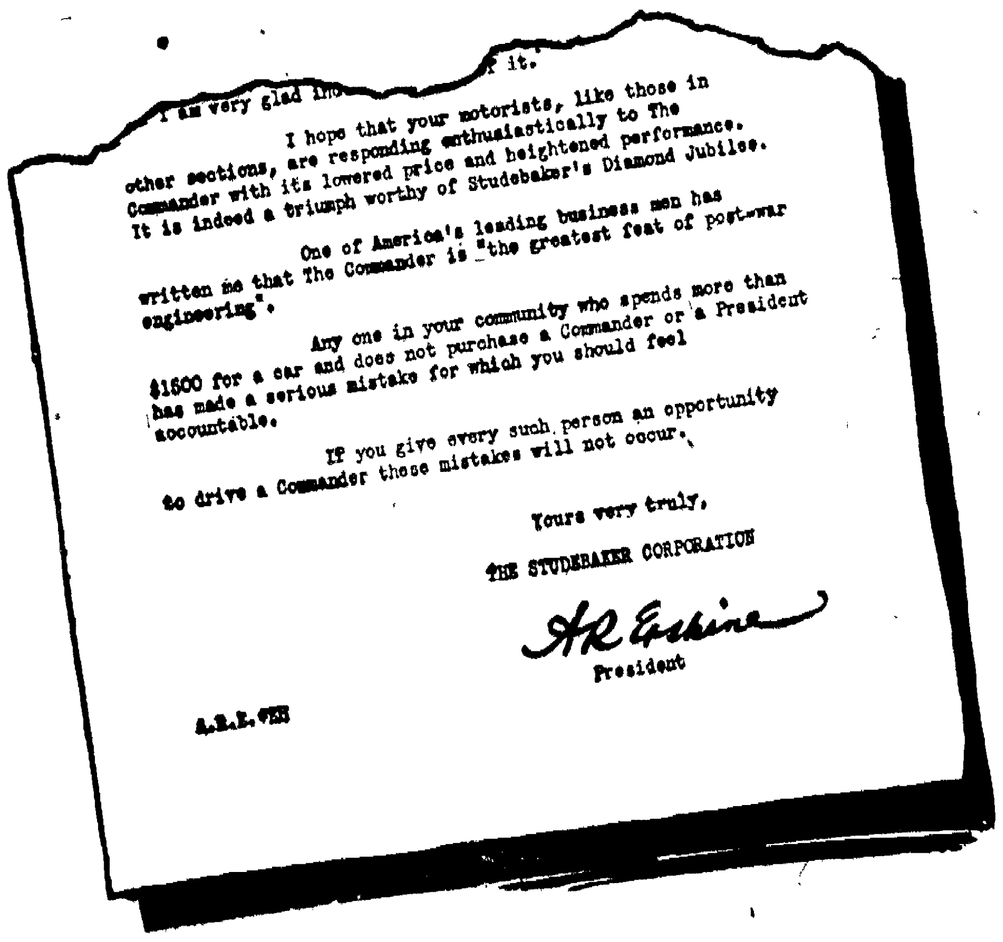
A letter from
President Erskine



I am very glad indeed to see the success that has attended the introduction of it.

I hope that your motorists, like those in other sections, are responding enthusiastically to The Commander with its lowered price and heightened performance. It is indeed a triumph worthy of Studebaker's Diamond Jubilee.

One of America's leading business men has written me that The Commander is "the greatest feat of post-war engineering".

Any one in your community who spends more than $1500 for a car and does not purchase a Commander or a President has made a serious mistake for which you should feel accountable.

If you give every such person an opportunity to drive a Commander these mistakes will not occur.

Yours very truly,
THE STUDEBAKER CORPORATION
A. R. Erskine
President

To prevent mistakes such as President Erskine speaks of we hereby invite YOU to phone or call for that ride in a Commander.

Commander Sedan lists at $1585; the Victoria at $1645 (with broadcloth upholstery), and $1575 (with mohair upholstery); Coupe at $1645 (for four), and $1545 (for two).

The Commander will outperform and outlive any car selling for less than $2500, and most of the cars selling above that figure

Fear Hostilities Between Marshal Chang and Soviet Russia

RESULT OF RAID UPON EMBASSY BY CHINESE

General Lawlessness Growing in Hankow, American Consul Lockhart Declares

Berlin, April 7—Hostilities between the armies of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, and Soviet Russia may possibly result from Marshal Chang's raid upon the Soviet Embassy compound at Peking, in the opinion of spokesmen for the leading political parties in Germany today.

Press organs close to the government condemn the action of the diplomatic corps in Peking for permitting Chinese police and soldiers to carry out the raid, which the Nationalist newspaper "Tag" calls "an unprecedented breach of extraterritoriality."

Tokio, April 7—Another Japanese was wounded by a Chinese mob at Hankow, it was reported today by American Consul Lockhart. After being shot in the head the Japanese was rescued and taken aboard the United States gunboat Pigeon.

Consul Lockhart sent word that general lawlessness at Hankow is growing. All Americans remaining there are being urged to leave.

German residents have chartered an American ship for the evacuation of 100 German residents.

The Japanese, evidently, intend to defend the Japanese concession at Hankow with their warcraft—two cruisers, four destroyers and a gunboat.

The Chinese foreign office has lodged a protest with the Soviet embassy as the result of discoveries made in the police raid upon the embassy compound yesterday. The specific protest is understood to be against the use of the embassy as a disseminating place for propaganda for the overthrow of the existing Chinese government.

100 Are Arrested

Revised figures show that 24 Russians and 76 Chinese were arrested during the raid.

Among the seizures made by the Chinese police were uniforms alleged to have been intended for use by Cantonese partisans "when the revolt started."

It was reported that one of the prisoners was identified as a cousin of Feng Yuh Siang, an inveterate enemy of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin.

The Dutch minister, in behalf of the diplomatic corps, handed a protest to the Chinese government, alleging that search of the Soviet embassy compound exceeded the warrant privileges of the Chinese government.

A note was handed to the foreign office by the Soviet minister charging the Chinese government with violation of the soviet's extra-territoriality rights. It complains that, at the time the note was despatched, soviet officials still were unable to enter their homes because they still were occupied by the Chinese police.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, commander of the Northern army, who was responsible for the embassy raid, has sent a circular telegram to his commanders saying:

"Troops and police arrested Lita Chao, a notorious Communist leader, and 35 others of the same faction in the legation quarter today (Wednesday). Guns and ammunition were seized along with much propaganda material.

"Those arrested will be duly tried. It must be pointed out that these rebellious elements responsible for the dissemination of bolshevism have wrought harm to the people and the nation that is unpardonable."

Gen. Chang Tso-Lin's headquarters have listed 4,000 Chinese in Peking as communists. Only the leaders will be severely punished; the others will be let off with a warning.

the stock and bonds can be placed on the market as soon as preliminary details have been worked out and the prospectus is ready for distribution.

In preparation for marketing the securities, 35 men making up a part of Harriman & Co's extensive sales force met at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. offices here yesterday and discussed plans for the sale. The meeting was in charge of Hamilton Pell of New York City, vice president of Harriman & Co., who came here Tuesday to close up the transaction which resulted in his concern purchasing the local industry.

Special Cars

The salesmen arrived here at 8 o'clock yesterday morning in three special cars chartered by Harriman & Co. The cars, two Pullmans and a diner, were attached to one of the regular Big Four trains.

The salesmen and Mr. Pell spent a large part of the day inspecting the factory, winding up with a conference in the afternoon. Speakers at the conference, in addition to Mr. Pell, were Charles B. King, vice president and general manager of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., D. J. Shelton, chief engineer, and Harvey T. Gracely, sales manager.

These speakers discussed the history of the business commenting in detail upon the methods and policies which have brought the local company to its present rank of national leadership.

The party returned to New York City in their special cars, leaving here at 5:15 yesterday afternoon.

Before leaving, Vice President Pell again made a statement in which he made clear his company's intention of maintaining a policy here which will not only keep the present working force steadily employed but will increase sales and production which will necessitate increasing the force.

Wave of Optimism

Announcement of sale of the local industry to Harriman & Co., published yesterday, has created a wave of pronounced optimism throughout the city, according to opinions expressed by business men generally.

Although praise for the old company is unlimited, it is generally believed that the business is certain to expand materially under the new ownership. This belief is based upon the fact that Harriman & Co., is closely identified with large industrial interests not only in this country but in countries overseas and that these connections are certain to be of tremendous advantage in promoting sales for the local steam shovel enterprise.

This view was expressed by Frank A. Huber, president of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., in commenting upon the situation today. He is of the opinion that the vast scope of Harriman & Co.'s influence and interests is the most important feature of the prospects for future growth of the Marion industry.

Financial Resources

The fact that the New York corporation also has almost unlimited financial resources is also pointed out as a great asset to the local enterprise.

Although the sale price of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., stock, of which it to be transferred to Harriman & Co., prior to organization of the new corporation, was not made public, it is understood on good authority that the transaction involved more than $7,000,000.

Harriman & Co. has announced no definite organization plans but it is thought that practically all of the present executive officers will be retained. This belief is based largely upon statements made by Vice President Pell in which he placed emphasis on his company's desire to avoid disturbing the organization which has conducted the business so successfully in the past.

Impressed By Spirit

He said that he was tremendously impressed with the remarkable spirit of friendliness and co-operation which exists between company officials and employes. He regards this as one of the concern's most valuable assets.

It was learned today that during the last few years, numerous large corporations have made overtures to the Marion Steam Shovel Co. in hope of arranging for purchase of the industry. Harriman & Co., it is stated, had sought to negotiate for the purchase on a former occasion but was unable to make connections.

Negotiations which resulted in the sale this week began here on Feb. 23.

examination showed 147 in need of tonsil treatment, 52 with defective teeth, 26 defective vision and 78 underweight.

Both Mrs. Hane and Dr. Weiser announced plans for holding the annual pre-school clinic in this city early in May, when several doctors from the state department are expected to assist in the work. This clinic is regarded as exceptionally important and parents of all children of pre-school age will be urged to take advantage of the opportunity for having their boys and girls examined.

Mrs. Hane also stated that arrangements are being made to establish a first aid station at the First Presbyterian Church during the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held here May 3, 4 and 5. The station will be in charge of Mrs. Hane and the two other public health nurses. About 1,000 club women are expected to attend the convention.

Gruber's Report

Dr. J. T. Gruber, city meat and milk inspector, reported having made 114 dairy inspections during March. Ninety-five permits were granted and 13 refused. Improvements at 29 milk producing plants were recommended.

Dr. Gruber stated that on March 24 and 25 he attended a conference of veterinaries from all parts of Ohio, held in Columbus, and took part in discussion of questions relating to milk and food regulations.

Steady progress is being made in eradication of tuberculosis among dairy cattle in the state, Dr. Gruber reported. Since 1923 1,204,524 cattle have been tested and 480,594 eliminated because of tubercular conditions.

Poultry Work

Attention is also being paid to combatting tuberculosis in the state's poultry flocks. A survey has shown that 5.3 per cent of all chickens are infected with tuberculosis, Dr. Gruber said, pointing out that the question is of utmost importance, due to the fact that the poultry industry in Ohio ranks second in farm production.

C. M. Tobin, city sanitary inspector, recommended that the board of health take some action in regard to unsatisfactory drainage conditions on Van Buren-st. Water stands there for days following a heavy rainfall, Mr. Tobin stated, so that the street is virtually impassable during a large part of the year.

Mr. Tobin, Mrs. Hane and Addison Bain were appointed as a committee to take the matter up with City Council for the purpose of recommending adequate drainage facilities.

In his monthly report, Tobin stated that numerous calls and complaints regarding drainage and sewer conditions were received by him and other city officials following the heavy rainfall in March which resulted in numerous streets and basements being flooded. It was impossible to furnish relief, however as the flood resulted chiefly from the sewers being too small to handle the emergency, Mr. Tobin said.

Many Complaints

A large number of reports and complaints regarding cisterns being poorly covered throughout the city were also received by Tobin immediately following the drowning of a child in a cistern on Davids-st several weeks ago. Tobin stated that an accident of this sort immediately calls attention of citizens to the danger of a similar happening at other homes and brings a demand for proper safeguards.

It was the opinion of Tobin and all members of the board that extreme diligence should be exercised not only by officials but by citizens in general, to eliminate all dangerous conditions in connection with cisterns.

ONE reader is amazed that doctrines of the Russian "Red Communists" should be taken up so greedily in China. There is no call for amazement. Here, where many of us own something, we don't think much of Communism. But in China, where 300,000,000 haven't got much of anything, a suggestion to divide might be carried.

The great Tokio firm of Suzuki suspends payments, with liabilities of a quarter of a billion dollars—half a million yen. This caused Japanese exchange to drop, but it will come back. A nation that can't be shaken by such earthquakes as Japan has had will not be shaken by one or a dozen big failures.

same that which last Saturday fleeced a Lima business man out of $12,000.

According to the Marion man's story three men appeared here last week and advised him to bet on a certain horse, which he did, and he won a neat sum. Then he was tipped to bet on another horse and once more he pulled down quite a sum of money. This was just a "feeler," as they say. Then the three men presented a scheme to build a handsome business structure in Marion and the alleged victim admitted he became interested.

Arrange Meeting

It was arranged so the Marion resident, for him to meet them in Springfield when "Col. Jackson" of Kentucky, several times a millionaire, who was to furnish the finances, would join them.

The Marion man went to Springfield, arriving on scheduled time. He was met at the hotel by one of the men. They went to the room of "Col. Jackson." He had not arrived but his "secretary" was there. The "secretary" said he was expecting the colonel any moment.

Then the first man and the Marion man retired to the lobby and seated themselves to await the arrival of "Col. Jackson." The old pocketbook game was introduced at this point, and the Marion man says he awoke to the fact that he was "being led to the slaughter" for he had heard of the pocketbook game being worked before.

Finds Pocketbook

The first man spied the pocketbook on the floor, picked it up and handed it to the Marion man to open. He refused and advised that it be turned over to the clerk. The first man then proceeded to open it, displaying stock, papers, money, etc. There was a name in the pocketbook. The first man looked over the hotel register, found the name, and the room and suggested to the Marion man that they deliver the pocketbook to the owner, which they did. This man was overcome with joy, as he expressed himself, in getting the pocketbook back, and he tendered the Marion man $100, which he declined to accept, admitting that his eyes were opened by this time. The Marion man claims this man offered to let him in on one of the largest stock deals ever put over in this country for $20,000.

The Marion man begged to be excused, got in his auto, parked near the hotel, and drove to police headquarters. He told his story only on condition that his name would not be made public.

You never can tell. Just as likely as not the financial report that "business is becoming more fluid" will arouse resentment among the extreme drys.

Mr. Borah's prediction that Governor Smith will run for the presidency on a dry ticket strikes us as an indication that the senator isn't any cleverer on prophecy than he is on history.

There's one thing we true aristocrats of the land should be willing to admit concerning the 203-miles car. It will probably get past every time while we are making up our minds to risk our lives again at the street crossing.

"Columbus Is Won by Mayor Jimmy" was the heading over the story of the New York mayor's visit to our state capital this week. If Mayor Jimmy keeps on at his present gait he's soon liable to be acclaimed as "Sunny Jim."

The White House denies that Secretary of State Kellogg is about to resign, which can hardly pass as other than another setback for the borers from within.

In view of the experiences of citizens yesterday in the dust clouds on the down-town streets, it's earnestly to be hoped that the city authorities will not hold off that promised cleaning-up of the street till the Federated club women assemble here in May.

The present year may prove somewhat dull, but think of the thrills we will get out of those yacht races when Sir Thomas Lipton comes over next year to "lift" the America's cup.

Her attorney figures that Gertrude Ederle has thus far netted only $18,000 out of her channel swim. Can it be possible? Why, she has cost the newspapers of this country alone a hundred times that.

Walker S. Buel, Washington staff man of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, says in his paper that there are two weaknesses in the Lowden presidential movement: one is that it seeks to capitalize discontent and the other is that its backing, at least in its initial personnel, is not the sort to appeal to the rank and file of the Republican party. In a word, they are the follows who have been trying to wreck the party. Walker might have added another weakness; Frank is not a good loser.

It Will Not Bear Scrutiny.

Since the vetoing of the McNary-Haugen bill by President Coolidge, some weeks ago, we have repeatedly come upon statements in type to the effect that the farmers of the land are seeking class legislation only because of their belief that the farming industry has been less favored by the tariff schedules than have been some of the other industries of the land.

We can hardly credit these statements for a number of reasons. In the first place it is hardly fair to refer to the McNary-Haugen bill as a farming proposition for the reason that it is not directed to the benefit of the farming industry as a whole, but only to certain lines of the farming industry, and for the further reason that it is manifest that farmer support of the proposed measure was strong only where aspiring politicians agitated strongly for it. Here in Ohio, we have seen it stated, the idea had more foes among the farmers than friends, and it is an unquestioned fact that a number of farm organizations voiced their opposition to it.

Had the proposed measure been drawn with the idea of proving of benefit to farmers generally it might honestly have been denominated a farm measure, but the fact that it was so drawn as to apply to the farmers in those sections in which the political agitators thrive is an indictment of it.

And we question the good faith, if it may be called that, behind the one-time proposed measure for another reason. We question if it can honestly be said that the farming industry receives less benefit from the present tariff schedules than do other industries. Under our tariff schedules about everything bought by the farmer for use on the farm comes into the country, if it is imported, duty free, while about everything the farmer raises is protected by a good, round duty.

We can not but feel that the farmers of the land would accomplish far more to their interest by working together than they possibly can by listening to the politicians; that concerted effort for the benefit of the entire farming industry is infinitely to be preferred to division in their ranks, with this or that division working for its own special interest at the expense of the other divisions.

The Element of Good Will.

In commenting on a previous announcement of the sale of the Marion Steam Shovel company—an announcement demonstrated by subsequent events to have been somewhat premature—we expressed the hope that the change of ownership would work out to the benefit of our city, and we gave our reasons for holding out that hope. Those reasons still obtain.

Of course we realized then, as now, that the passing of our greatest industrial concern from Marion to outside ownership would prove a blow to those among us who have so long championed home industries under home control and home management. We gave due weight to the fact that the transfer of ownership would result in the loss of dividend returns to Marion, but, on the other hand, we pointed out that it would bring to our city an immense amount of capital which would seek and find investment here at home. We figured, too, that an increased output, which was predicted then, as it now is, would bring about the employment of more labor, and, when all is said, it is the market made by labor which builds up a city commercially and makes it thrive.

But at the time of our former comment we neglected to state that this hope for an outcome of the sale beneficial to the city, and thus to citizens generally, was predicated on one thing, and this one thing is the matter of good will. And this holds good today. The outcome of the sale to W. A. Harriman & Company, Inc., of New York City, so far as good or bad to the city is concerned, depends largely on good will. We know of few, if any, corporations which have proved of benefit to a city when they did not have this element of good will behind them. The management of the big local industry to be selected by the reorganized company must have our good will, just as the management which has so successfully conducted the business in the past has had it. We do not mean the feeling of good will of employes toward the management or of the management toward employes alone, but the good will of the entire community for the enterprise. The management of the Marion Steam Shovel company in the past has been proud of its output, proud of its force and proud of its plant. The force has been proud of the plant and its output. There has been good will both ways. The people of Marion as a whole have been proud of the plant, its output, its force and its management. The industry has had the good will of all our people. And it has been this general good will which has worked to the benefit of all concerned.

With this same good will manifested in the future, as it should be, by employes, employers and citizens generally, there is no reason why the growth of the industry, which may naturally be anticipated, will not work added benefit to Marion and her people generally.

The Massachusetts supreme court having denied a new trial to Vanzetti and Sacco, convicted in 1921 for murder, their case is now to be carried to the supreme court of the United States. Unless they are naturally long-lived, the chances are that they will yet die natural deaths.

France declines to take part in the coming three-power arms conference in Geneva for the reason that, so she says, she doesn't desire to weaken the authority of the League of Nations, which, if our memory serves us correctly, is the same League of Nations she not so long ago defied.

William Hale Thompson was elected mayor of Chicago on a beer platform by $3,000 plurality. It is evident that the people of Chicago know what they want and that they do not care greatly how they get it, just so they get it.

"Murderless Election Ends Hectic Campaign" read a headline in yesterday's Cleveland Plain Dealer over the story of Tuesday's mayoralty election in Chicago. It's a sad commentary on American civilization when the fact that the second city in the land held a murderless election is featured.

The star, her leading man, eighteen other members of the cast and the two managers of "Sex" have been convicted in New York City of putting on an immoral show, which we may take as further confirmation of the story of the box-office receipts.

A child's toy wooden horse and a wax tablet recording the birth of twins in 145 A. D. have been found by University of Michigan explorers in Egypt. Why not? Children were much the same with much the same inclinations 1,800 years ago as now. The only changes are largely those which come with the artificialities of later years.

Seven of the Mexican bandits who killed Edgar W. Wilkins were executed by Mexican authorities, last Monday, within forty-eight hours after the body of the American electrical engineer was found. Mexico may have her failings, but the speed with which she has meted out punishment in this case might well be emulated this side of the Rio Grande.

Vagrant Verse.

GAIN OR LOSS?

The riches of soil must be gathered
And fashioned to meet each one's need
The riches of soul should be scattered
We shape some for use in our creed.

The sunshine and rain left unaided
Don't make up a harvest-filled plain;
And gold, whether scattered or gathered
Can't measure a life's loss or gain.

But years, soil and industry blended,
In working a faith-written plan,
Will furnish a wealth beyond measure,
Will yield in full measure a man.

The years may pass by and be counted,
And industry seek added power,
The soil may lie fallow a season,
Awaiting a new dawning hour.

The silence that comes, and the shadows,
Are markings the Master best knows.
'Tis He in His wisdom appoints them
Love guided His care He bestows.

The riches of soul that are scattered
Don't call for retrenchment nor ban;
Why grieve over failures or losses?
Your measure of gain is the man.

Keeping Youthful Not Difficult.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A few nights ago I entered my hotel in Washington about 11 o'clock in the evening. Lively music caught by ear and enticed me to the doorway of the living-room. A beautiful dinner dance was in full progress and I gazed upon the dancers for a period of ten minutes or so.

The idea struck me then that our muscles grow stiff when we stop using them. Our bodies grow fat when we give up energetic exercise.

Why should it be considered "undignified" for middle-aged persons to dance? Why should skating, baseball, basketball, and the many "games" indulged in by youth, be overlooked by age?

Just as soon as our children are big enough to do all these joyful things, we think we must retire to the sidelines. It's all nonsense. Let's keep young by continuing to be young.

When the boys and girls get big enough, we send them upstairs for the scissors and downstairs for the wood. Next time you want something, get up and get it for yourself!

Don't let your muscles grow flabby and your waistline increase in measurement, by avoiding every effort you can turn over to somebody else. You can't cheat nature. You may think she isn't watching you, but she is. Every time you avoid running an errand you add a few grains to your weight.

We are too much like Rip Van Winkle and his drink. "We won't count this one," he said. You think nature won't count this one neglect of exercising the muscles, but she will.

Women of the leisure class are more prone than men to settle down to the certainty of increase in girth and weight. It is a mistake to do this and I advise strongly against it.

The usual means of escape from growing fat and stale is to keep an active interest in every sport and every club or community enterprise. Do your full share of the running around and you will keep elastic and youthful in figure.

There are men and women who fool us by their posture in standing. I have in mind a famous member of the congress. On his feet in speech or debate, he stands erect and by the vigor of his language and gestures, he gives the impression of youth.

Trail the same man down the corridor. He is slouched over, his shoulders sag and his gait is all but shuffling. He is really physically feeble, even though strong in voice and oratorical technique.

The muscles of the entire body must be exercised. There must be daily exercise, not too strenuous, of course, but of such a nature as to bring into play all parts of the body.

You are as old as you permit yourself to be.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

C. A. B. Q—I have been troubled with nasal catarrh and two years ago had an antrum operation. There is a dripping into the throat which has a most unpleasant odor. What would you advise for this trouble?

A—Treatment in the nasal passage and the use of a good cleansing spray in nose and throat should be effective. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

These here golf bugs are about as dangerous as any kind of lunatics, if they get real earnest about it. Well, you know about the two that fought a duel by shooting golf balls at one another, down in Florida. They get that way, just arguing about scores. I've known lawyers that couldn't be seen by clients that wanted to settle out of court, because the lawyers were abusing each other in the inner office about the best kind of a mashie to mash with.

Well, there was two guys in Philadelphia that was going out to the links, and they was arguing back and forth about this and that, and finally Jones says:

"Well, Martin, I reckon this here golf takes up too much of my attention. Now, last night I was dreaming about it all night. I dreamed that I done this here course in sixty-nine. It give me a fine feeling, let me tell you."

"Yes," says the other one. "I know how that is. I dream about the game, too. Now, last night I dreamed about this same course, and in my dream I did it in fifty-four."

"Look here," says the first one, "I don't think I want to play with you! You're just a plain fool, or you wouldn't dream such things! Fifty-four! I don't play golf with fools. Good-by!"—Copyright, 1927.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

It is a great day we're living in, here in America, if we believe the figures. And the figures are dependable. In the United States we have but a sixth of the world's population and a sixteenth of the earth's area, but we are growing richer at the rate of $40,000,000 every day. For example, we are making sixty-six per cent. of all the steel used in the world and eighty-seven per cent. of all the motor cars. And it isn't a case of the rich growing richer and the poor growing poorer. The poor do better here than anywhere else.

A Chicago university professor says the movies hatched America's brood of post-war flappers and sheiks. Young people model themselves, in dress and manners, after their screen favorites. What an influence the motion picture people have! What a tremendous educational and moral value the motion picture might have if the people who direct them and act them sensed the value of the great power behind the screen!

The 350 people who work for a Massachusetts shoe manufacturer offered to loan him half their wages when he got into financial difficulties. It is a pleasant sign. There is a growing sense of "working together" rather than "working for somebody" in industrial relations in this country.

Scientists are giving more thought to human behavior. They are trying to learn "how people get that way." When we learn more about the science of behavior, we can come nearer predicting what people will do—and perhaps we can prevent them from doing it.

As to why a few students have committed suicide there are many explanations. There is one suggestion that is properly laughed at by a New York college president. He laughs at the idea of overwork. College students broken down from over-work are rare specimens.

Wordsworth speaks "of one in whom persuasion and belief had ripened into faith, and faith become a passionate intuition."

Faith may, indeed, be likened to an intuition. And intuition may be stronger than reason. After all, reason sometimes seems but a mere matter of mechanism over against the great spiritual reality of faith.

Dinner Stories.

The other day Small Sister came home from school proudly flourishing a paper. "It's a composition about Socerateos," she said, handing it to Mother with a grand air. They ought to be taught English, he said, adding in conclusion: "If English was good enough for Jesus, it's good enough for me."

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Why is it a good practice to place a silver spoon in a glass before pouring boiling water into it? G. D.

A. Silver is a very good conductor of heat and therefore prevents the sudden expansion which causes a glass to crack.

Q. Will a gallon of gas left in a can without a cover lose its strength in a day? E. E. R.

A. When gasolene evaporates, it is not said to lose its strength. However, the lighter parts evaporates first. How much it evaporates in twenty-four hours would depend on the temperature, draft and many other existing conditions.

Q. Please give information concerning the star, Betelgeuse. S. H.

A. The Naval observatory says according to George Ellery Hale, the diameter of Betelgeuse is certainly more than 190,000,000 miles and probably as much as 215,000,000. The diameter of the sun being 864,000 miles. Betelgeuse is therefore roughly 250 times greater diameter and 15,000,000 times greater volume. However, it is supposed to consist of matter in an extremely attenuated condition. The fact that no star whose weight has been determined is as much as 100 times as heavy as the sun, makes it unlikely that Betelgeuse is heavy in proportion to its volume.

Q. What is petrified wood? M. R.

A. The name conveys the idea of wood turned into stone, for such is the apparent condition. As explained by scientists, there frequently has occurred in the case of a piece of wood buried in the past and subjected to certain conditions, gradual disappearance of the particles thereof, accompanied by corresponding replacement with a deposit of dissolved silica. As a result, the place originally occupied by the piece of wood has come to be occupied by a stone formation corresponding in size and shape with the said piece as it formerly existed, and frequently corresponding in texture or grain and more or less in general appearance with such piece.

Q. Is "ax" properly used instead of "ask?" D. V.

A. Formerly this term was in good usage, but is now considered provincial or obsolete.

Q. I have a coin with 'Sultanate of Brunei" engraved on it and would like to know whether there was ever a country by this name. K. R.

A. Brunei is a British colony located on the northwest coast of Borneo.

Q. It is the amperage or voltage that causes death on a high-tension line? T. A. C.

A. Amperage burns, while voltage shocks. It may be a combination of both that causes death from a high-tension line. However, in most instances it is voltage that causes death.

Q. How many letters are there in the Chinese alphabet? J. V.

A. The Chinese writing is not reckoned in this fashion. There are approximately 5,000 characters in the Chinese language.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, April 7—Lenox avenue, the main artery of Harlem's Black belt, is a constant wooer of Lady Luck. It is estimated that tinted ladies and ebony mated sheiks wager $75,000 nightly on the Clear-House lottery.

It is called "numbers" and is based on the closing figures of the clearing-house. The winning numbers often pay 600 to 1. A horse and one lucky charms, ranging from the rabbit's foot to "concentrated goofer dust," are on sale in various small shops.

There are also "charm passers" who practice a living mumbling mystic abracadabra to befuls in voodoo parlors. Gambling supremacy here reaches its highest peak. Many men and women have their left ear pierced in the light of the new moon, believing in its favorable power.

"Numbers" is one of innumerable games of chance that flourish in the district. Another high favor is euphoniously known as "bolita zam." Chanes sell for a dollar each and the person who holds the number nearest the total sales of shares in Wall street for the day wins $1,000. There is only a first prize.

Peculiarly enough, winners do not always go on spending sprees. Some make first payment down on a parcel of real estate and soaring values have resulted in several instances in an independence never dreamed.

As a result of the chance games, dice and other favorite gambling devices are almost extinct along Lenox avenue. The danger of a group raid is not faced in the lottery scheme. Only the lottery seller is arrested.

The rake-off for the seller is often scandalous. His percentage is about twenty per cent, and a former shoe shiner is reported to have amassed more than $200,000 last year.

An aging actress appeared in a cafe one evening recently with a snow-white transformation. A jealous lady, once a victim of a temperamental outburst, screeched across the room: "I suppose you got that way over night."

A former stevedore, who became a millionaire, indulges an odd luxury. Instead of being a private physician he has a private chiropodist whose task is matutinal. For years his heavy dock labors resulted in corns, bunions and other pedal aches. He is reported to pay him $7,000 a year.

The removal of the Metropolitan opera-house to Eighth avenue and Fifty-Seventh street is another decided step in the northward Broadway migration. Only the Empire, Casino and Knickerbocker theaters are left in that district running southward from Forty-Second street to Herald square. It was once the promenade ground for stage folk in the afternoon. But it was not unusual to see David Belasco, Joe Weber, Lew Fields, David Warfield, Lenore Ulric, Mann, and Lillian Russell in a few blocks walk.

Present day players, it would seem, do not become so well-known to their public as the old timers did, nor does their vogue last as long. There are at least a dozen, starred years ago, in obscurity today. It is doubtful because stardom is more easily achieved in this age. Most of the old timers rattled around burlesque, toured the tanks for years before Broadway acclaimed them. Several stars of today have never appeared west of Chicago.

Who's Who and Why.

HERBERT HOOVER.

Herbert Clark Hoover, United States secretary of commerce, was born at West Branch, Iowa, August 10, 1874. During the World war Hoover served as food administrator of the country on appointment by President Wilson. He was the director of various economic measures in Europe during the armistice period, including the organization of food supplies to Poland, Germany, Austria, Roumania, Armenia and the Balkan states. President Harding appointed him secretary of commerce in his cabinet in 1921 and he has retained the post throughout the Coolidge administration.

Speaking of the building up of friendly relations with South America, Secretary Hoover said recently:

"If we had a deified censor of so inspired and so lofty a soul as to be able to say what South America could represent to us their progress and their great aspirations and could cut from our films those things which are our own humiliation, the picture would become the greatest vehicle of friendship yet devised by man.

"But the industry must be its own censor. I have a growing confidence in it. The point is that today the lowest levels of morals and inspiration in the films are higher than the current stage itself. I trust in the good faith of this great body of men who dominate the industry in the United States to carry out the profound obligation—that is, that every picture of South American life shown to the people and every picture of North American life shown to the South American people should carry also those ideals which build that respect and confidence which is the guarantee of peace and progress.

"The great web of international trade is no longer a simple exchange between two countries, it flows into a great common pool where it finds its own proper balance. If we buy from the Argentine less goods than we sell to it, are with the other hand buying similar amounts of goods from Europe which enables Europe in turn to purchase more from the Argentine."

Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Sunday.

Miss Amy McCullom, before her marriage in the afternoon to William Ruggles, figured in a runaway when she started to drive to the home of her affianced in Big Island, preparatory to going to Green Camp to be married by Rev. F. A. Twining. She was thrown out of the buggy receiving cuts and bruises about the face and head. The marriage was later performed at the Ruggles home.

A large company of friends was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. B. Campbell, of Big Ridge, in honor of the ninety-second birthday of Mrs. J. R. Neff, the next day.

Promotion day exercises were held at the First Presbyterian church, with the pastor, Rev. George M. Rourke in charge.

The United Commercial Travelers held their annual memorial exercises at their hall on north Main street.

Word was received in Marion of the marriage in Tucson, Arizona, March 24, of Roma Lust and Mr. William C. Ulsh. The bride and groom were Marionites, the latter having gone to Tucson, three months previously, to accept a position there.

Miss Ella Stark and Mr. Frank Groff were married by Rev. L. H. Hurrelbrink, of this prospect.

Mrs. Jonas Conklin suffered an attack of heart failure during the closing hymn of the morning exercises at the First Presbyterian church. For a time it was thought she was dead. She and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary a week or so later.

Miss Bertha Pauline Weber and Mr. Edward Kline, the latter of Bucyrus, were married by Rev. E. F. W. Stellhorn.

The distinguished British editor, W. T. Stead, was visiting America as the guest of Andrew Carnegie.

KENT DIVISION OF ERIE HOLDS MEETING HERE

Supervisors and Various Officials Attend Regular Monthly Business Session

Supervisors and various officials from every section of the Kent Division were in Marion yesterday in attendance at the regular monthly safety meeting of that division of the Erie Railroad. The meeting was held in Superintendent H. R. Adams' office in the Harding building.

Various topics of safety and plans for safety work in that department were discussed. The meeting was in the form of an all-day session.

Meetings of this nature are held every month for the purpose of impressing the importance of safety problems on officials of the Erie and employes. Benefit from the meetings is shown in the reduced number of accidents on the Erie road.

Rushing Work

A force of 300 expert Pennsylvania Railroad employes from the signal, maintenance of way and motive power departments of the Western Region, of which Marion is a part, is making an effort to complete the system of automatic train control which will be placed in operation, July 1, on the Columbus Division between Front-st, Columbus, and Indianapolis.

With the placing of this important 188-mile stretch of Western Region lines under automatic control, the Pennsy will have complied with the agreement it has with the Interstate Commerce Commission for operation after July 1 of all trains on the Columbus Division main line with the finest and most complete automatic stop equipment ever devised.

The position light wayside signals will be placed in service between Richmond, Ind., and Indianapolis on or before April 15, and those between Richmond and Columbus will go into service about three weeks later.

All of the old-style semaphore signals now in use, which extend to a height of 20 feet from the top of the rail, will be abandoned on the Columbus Division. Modern position—light signals, 17 feet from the top of the rail to the pivot light, will be used throughout. The signal at this height puts the light on a line with the vision of the engineman sitting in the locomotive cab.

Cut in Traffic

Little more has been said in local railroad circles about the effect of the coal strike on the railroads. It is known, however, that the Hocking is not running as many coal trains as usual and probably will not regain the rushing business peak reached before the strike for some time. Business, however, is still going strong, it is reported, in spite of the sudden slump due to the strike.

The strike in no way affects the local employes of the Hocking Valley or other railroads.

chicks, the bulk of the sales are white leghorns and barred Plymouth Rocks, Mr. Ohls states. The white leghorn, because of its proven worth as an egg producer, is in especial demand.

Last year approximately 3,000,000 eggs were used by the Ohls Co., for hatching the 1,870,000 chicks sold from its various plants. Practically all of these eggs are purchased in territory surrounding the various hatcheries. The eggs come from select stock over which the Ohls Co. maintains the closest possible supervision, all hens being marked by seal leg bludings to provide positive identification.

In addition, all of the flocks are inspected each fall by specially employed poultry experts, the inspection in this locality being in charge of a representative of the O. S. U. department of agriculture.

The loss of baby chicks from death or injury in shipment is very small, Mr. Ohls states. Ventilated cardboard shipping cartons of 100-chick capacity are used. These cartons are divided into two compartments.

All of the chicks are shipped when one day old and as they do not require feeding for 72 hours, this provides ample time for getting them to their destination.

The local plant of the Ohls Co., the largest of the seven, which it now operates, consists of five buildings in which 14 persons are employed. All of the outside plants are in charge of local managers.

Two thousand stock-owning employees tailor the quality into Richman's Clothes—sold from factory direct to you.

The standard conservative three-button Richman sack.

YOU will find in the Richman Store, a truly remarkable showing of new woolens, and fashionably correct models, ready for the selection of your spring suit and topcoat—no need here, to limit your choice of weave, color or style.

Every authoritative model is represented, for men of every size, proportion and posture. There are woolens to please the most fastidious—rich colorings and pronounced patterns adapted to the "live-wire" personalities of young men; quiet gray, blue, tan and brown shades for the mature professional or business man.

Suggestions

Choose for business wear a sturdy twist weave with the color harmony of a summer sunset, a cassimere of granite blue, fawn, or mahogany brown, or, as a concession to quiet taste, the dignity of a pencil stripe or soft gray flannel.

You'll want a suit of blue, as well. Always in good form, the blue suit provides a change for business wear, keeps you "dressed up" for the evening in town, and, in fact, fits into the spirit of every occasion which falls short of formal dress requirements.

All $22.50

Quality First

You can't fairly judge Richman's Clothes by the price, alone. You must actually see the style, the fabrics, and the tailoring.

Quality comes first on our program, from the buying of woolens to final inspection of the finished garments.

The remarkably low prices follow as a result of 48 years experience; big scale production, whole-hearted cooperation of stock-owning employees, direct sales from factory to wearer—and the Richman policy of passing on to the customer the additional savings of cash buying and selling.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

When Baby Complains.

There are many ways a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short, sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

CHAPTER XVIII

THE mistake, the supervisor went on, adressing the mother and sweetheart of John Powell, must have been made in France. "I'll have our superintendent communicate with the war office immediately and we'll get this matter straightened out if possible. And now I think you had better go back to Newark and wait until we can get word from Washington."

And so the two returned to their home in New Jersey. And the man who had been brought to the hospital wearing the label of John W. Powell, Jr., of Newark, was now left without any name . . . . They called him the Unknown Soldier.

In the meantime Prof and Mollie Elwell and the girls, out in Camdenville, Ind., were beginning to wonder why no word had yet reached them from Jim, since the armistice had been in effect now for nearly two months.

Could it be, they began to ask one another, that Jim had suffered a relapse while convalescing from the flu well wrote a letter of inquiry to the war office at Washington.

Ten days later the little family got its answer. It read:

"James T. Elwell, Company — of the —th Regiment, Second Division of the American Army in France, was killed in a shell explosion on November 7 at the Battle of Sedan." Followed the usual stereotyped expressions of condolence.

Prof Elwell got the communication and read it silently. Mollie looked on with blanched face.

He came over to her and put his arms around her. "Our boy's gone, Mollie. We'll have to take it standing up, though, on account of the twins. Just lean on me, Mollie."

"G-gone, Prof?" Mollie faltered, her lips trembling. "You mean—"

"He's dead, dear. He died like a hero in the last battle of the war. God! The irony of it! In the last battle of the war!"

"Oh, why? Why, dear Lord," and Mollie laid her head on her husband's

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Foreigner Appears

THE most precious word which any woman can hear came to my ears in the shrill excited voice of my small son, and effectually banished for the time all retrospection over the last troubled hectic year of my life and all introspection over the problem of my future course.

Yet his excited words when he came running to my side as I sat resting upon the farmhouse porch, were in themselves an insistent reminder of the position I was facing, that of trying to revive the still glowing embers of our marital happiness or letting them fade into the dead ashes which they inevitably would become without attention.

"Mother! Mother! hurry! Katie says it's almost time to go to the station after Daddy, and Jim has the car all ready."

I rose abruptly with the bleak realization of the difference between my reaction to this first week-end trip of for it gave me an opportunity again to dodge the question he had asked me. Mother Graham, who had risen despite her protest and gone to the closet for her hat and cloak, looked round sternly at her grandson, as I took him by the shoulders and looked steadily down into his excited eyes.

"Go and tell Granny you are sorry for being impertinent," I said, "or I shall not permit you to go to meet Daddy."

It was a most potent threat, although such is the inherent hatred of injustice of my little lad that he would have taken the punishment rather than apologize if his own small conscience had not assured him that he richly merited the reproof. Gulping, he ran to his grandmother.

"I'm terrible sorry, Granny," he said, "and I won't do it again."

"All right, my pet," she said, and the next minute we were going down the stairs to the waiting car. But I was conscious that she was covertly watching me, turning over in her keen old mind the suggestion which she had voiced to me. And when, upon Dicky's arrival, he took his seat beside her as a matter of course, I heard in her protesting, "Why don't yoh sit with Margaret? I'll take Junior back here," a precursor of still more embarrassing queries from her lips.

With my knowledge of Junior's persistence, I decided all the way home a recurrence of his demand now, I knew, became a shibboleth with him, that he and I sit in his father's lap. Thankful, indeed, was I when I drove in the yard to find Katie and Jim in excited gesticulatory conference with an old-looking foreigner, and to hear Katie's shrill summons for us. Anything which would divert Junior's mind was welcome.

Kenton Council Provides Fund to Carry on Battle Against Gas Rate Boosts

Transfer of $500 to Solicitor's Incidental Account Made To Take Care of Any Expense in Taking Special Depositions

Kenton, April 7—That the city will seek testimony other than that to be offered by its expert assistance, when the gas rate case is reheard before the state public utilities commission in Columbus, May 9, was intimated when city council authorized the transfer of $500 from the council to the solicitor's incidental fund to take care of any expenses that might be incurred in the taking of special depositions.

Possibility of going outside the state for witnesses in the gas rate case was expressed by Loucks B. Brown, special council, in speaking before the city legislative body. Availability of gas in the state would be one of the points sought in testimony of the new witnesses.

A resolution placing the matter of hiring expert assistance in the telephone rate case now pending in the hands of the finance committee of council for decision and action, was also passed by the council.

Progress Report

Progress by the city in its fight against both the proposed increased rate schedule sought by the West Ohio Gas Co. and the Kenton Telephone Co. for patrons here was reported by Attorney Brown, in appearing before council. The gas case is progressing satisfactorily, he said. Columbus accountants are now completing their check of the records of the West Ohio Gas Company and preparing exhibits to be used in the rate rehearing in May.

Referring to the telephone rate case, both Atty. Brown and City Solicitor Arthur Tudor, urged that the city take immediate steps to prepare its case in preparation for the hearing date to be set soon by the public utilities commission. The city if it expects results, should present a formidable defense built upon expert services, they declared in urging that experts be hired to complete an appraisal of the properties of the phone company here and check over the inventory and appraisal figures given the commission by the utility as a basis for the new rates sought. Audit of the phone company's books and an exhaustive study of the records were also urged.

SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION AIM OF PETITIONERS

Goshen, Dudley, Hepburn, Mt. Victory Districts Would Be Affected

Kenton, April —A petition for the consolidation of the Goshen and Dudley Township school districts with Hepburn and Mt. Victory, has been presented to the Hardin County Board of Education by a delegation from the two townships, it was announced today.

The petitioners stated that there is much sentiment within these two townships for the consolidation. The county board expects to act upon the petition at the next meeting when boundary lines are to be mapped out and other matters ironed out relative to the proposition.

Creation of a new school district out of a portion of the present Ada rural school district was denied by the county school board at a meeting here. A petition presented to the board by delegations of taxpayers was tabled indefinitely after a hearing of both sides of the question.

Large Number Attends Play Given at Galion School by Daughters of America

Musical Comedy Personally Directed by Irving O. Plain, Author of Show; Selections from Student Prince Feature Production

Galion, Apr. 7—Galion's theatrical patrons witnessed an amusing musical comedy last night when "Too Hoo" was presented by a large cast of well known young people. Although the season has been unusually active work in dramatics in the city it was the only large musical production of the year.

The affair was staged under the auspices of the Daughters of America and was personally directed by Irving O. Plain, the author of the play. The settings and costumes were elaborate and the songs introduced some of the latest popular tunes. Choruses of dancing girls and a large male group, which contributed selections from the Student Prince and other current professional shows, added greatly to the success of the enterprise.

The play was in two acts and the plot fast moving and full of comical situations centering around a negro chauffeur who has learned the art of hyptonizing. A spectacular finale fittingly ended the entertainment.

List of Principals

Besides the chorus groups the principals included Arnold Meeker, Augeline Yochem, DeWitte Kersh, Doris Cook, Ethel Tracht, Franklin Crane, Miriam Sayre, Peggy Bradfield, Gerald Everly, Martha Carol Schaffner and Ralph Deibig. During intermissions specialty numbers were introduced by Dixie Belle Snyder and Margaret Dunn who gave special interpretative and acrobatic dances and by Francis Schalip who favored with a vocal solo.

A popularity contest was conducted in connection with the ticket sale, votes being given with each ticket purchase. Doris Cook was awarded first prize of a beautiful wrist watch. Margaret Goetz ranked second and others receiving awards included, Mary Smith, Nola Freese, Helen Engle and Dorothy Newman.

Although the audience appeared well pleased with the production it could be readily seen that the best liked type of performance with Galionites is wholly dramatic work without musical comedy touches, and that most interest is centered on the coming senior class play, "The Show Off," which is now being prepared for presentation early in May.

Bumper Millionaire Crop Being Grown in Fertile Soil of Prosperity This Year

More Than 250 Americans Have Paid Taxes on Incomes of More Than Million Dollars, United States Treasury Reports; 1927 To Exceed 1926, Is Belief

Washington, April 7—A bumper crop of millionaire incomes is being grown this year in the fertile soil of national prosperity, according to all advance indications marked down by the United States Treasury.

Unless the dollar-seers of the treasury are far off in their predictions, the number of persons who have just paid taxes on incomes of more than a million dollars during 1926 will reach the astounding total of 250. The number of people paying taxes on incomes ranging downward from one million dollars a year to a quarter of a million is expected to correspondingly increase.

The treasury does not know, and has no means of knowing, just how many millionaires and multi-millionaires there are in the country. It does know, however, that 207 persons "confessed" to incomes of more than $1,000,000 in 1925, the last year for which complete figures are available; that 138 persons admitted and paid on incomes between $750,000 and $1,000,000,000 annually; that 340 others paid on incomes between $500,000 and $750,000, and that the astonishing number of 8,873 paid on incomes between $100,000 and $500,000 annually.

The treasury prediction of an even greater crop of millionaire incomes for the year 1926 is based upon the proven fact that '26 was a better all-around business year than '25. And advance indications for 1927 are that it will exceed 1926 in prosperity.

Found Guilty of Slaying Two Girls, Attacking Mother and Robbing Home

Fairfax Courthouse, Va., April 7—Louis J. Boersig, 44, himself the father of four children, was under sentence to die in the electric chair today, following his speedy conviction of one of the most revolting crimes in the annals of northern Virginia.

Boersig was found guilty of having entered the home of George Ridgeway, a farmer, and beating to death two small girls, Loretta, 9, and Kathleen, 6, attacking Mrs. Ridgeway, the mother, who was nursing an infant, and taking the family savings of $86. He was arrested, tried and convicted within 30 days after the crime.

The condemned man contended he was drunk and did not remember what occurred. He denied the murders, but admitted he had been at the Ridgeway home. The evidence against him was overwhelming.

GAS TAX BOOST BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Measure Will Produce $7,000,000 Revenue Annually If Enacted into Law

Columbus, April 7—The house of representatives today passed by a vote of 91 to 21, the Sullivan bill, increasing the state tax on gasoline from two to three cents per gallon.

The bill now goes to the senate.

It is estimated that an additional revenue of approximately $7,000,000 per annum will be yielded by the increased tax, all of which, under the terms of the measure, would be used for highway construction and reconstruction. Sixty per cent of the proceeds would be used for highway building or reconstruction in the state at large, the remaining 40 per cent going to the counties for highway work, being allotted on a basis of motor vehicle registration.

BODY OF FREMONT MAN FOUND DEAD IN TOLEDO

Toledo, April 7—With a bullet wound through the heart, the body of Henry Clauss, 55, member of a prominent Fremont family of cutlery manufacturers, was found here today at the foot of a flight of stairs in a vacant building.

According to police the man was murdered, but Coroner Henzler is of the belief that Clauss committed suicide. The police base their theory on the reported absence of powder marks on the body and the finding of a second bullet which they claim was imbedded in a spindle of the stairway banister.

PLANNING COMMISSION DISCUSSES EXTENSIONS

Sets First Wednesday Night of Each Month for Regular Meetings.

The City Planning Commission met last night at the office of Mayor Hazen and discussed extensions that have been proposed for the city's commercial district but deferred action until the next meeting.

The commission decided to set the first Wednesday night of each month as the time for regular sessions. This was done in order to systematize the work and do away with the frequent special sessions which have been held in the past. Special meetings will be called in the future only in case business of unusual importance demands consideration.

SAPIRO'S FEES TOTAL NEAR $750,000 MARK

Sen. Reed Devotes Considerable Time to Relations with Fruit Growers

Federal Building, Detroit, April 7—Revelations of the gross income paid Aaron Sapiro, so-called cooperative king by American farmers in the last decade, neared the $750,000 mark today at the trial of the Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

Senator James A. Reed, chief of Henry Ford's counsel traced Sapiro's incomes from his amazing activities in the farm world dollar by dollar. Reed devoted hours of cross-examination to Sapiro's connection with fruit growers. The cooperative king testified he received $20,250 in fees since 1921 from the Federated Growers, Inc., alone.

APPROPRIATION BILL IS PASSED BY OHIO HOUSE

Williamson Measure Provides for $51,000,000 Costs of State Activity

Columbus, April 7—Action is expected to be taken today by the Ohio Senate on the Williamson appropriations bill and the Norton highway recodification bill, both of which passed the house late Wednesday by votes of 113 to 4 and of 90 to 24, respectively.

The Williamson bill, providing for appropriations of state funds approximatey $51,000,000, is designed to take care of the major costs of state governmental activities during the 18-months fiscal period beginning July 1, next.

The Norton bill contains provisions for separation of the state highway department and that of public works, established the office of state highway director, to be appointed by the governor, reduced special assessments for road improvements, a comprehensive plan for grade crossing elimination, and relieves counties and townships of all assess for state road construction.

Not Materially Altered

Depite numerous futile efforts on the part of various house members to cut out large items of expenditure for buildings and by Rep. W. C. Wendt, Columbus, to add more than $750,000 to the appropriations for the state welfare department, the Williamson bill passed the lower legislative branch without being materially altered.

Such changes as were made were relatively minor ones, with a net reduction of $18,750 in the total appropriations.

The house health committee has recommended passage of the Chappelear bill ,which requires a physical examination of all applicants for marriage and authorizes sterilization, and the house codes committee has taken similar action relative to the Comings bill, providing for sexual sterilization of mental defectives and certain classes of criminals. Both bills passed the senate.

Senate Passes Bills

The house is asked to concur in the action of the senate which passed bills and adopted resolutions including: by Sen. Robert Rohe, Tiffin, providing for repair of roads and memorial buildings in Speigel Grove State Park, Fremont, and for lopping trees and constructing a fence there; by Kumler, Preble County, memorializing congress to accord emergency army officers disabled in the World War the same retirement privileges given regular army officers; by Lewis, Belmont, to apply delinquent penalty taxes not paid when first half-year is due; by Marshall, Cuyahoga, to restrict loan sharks in "buying up" salaries by placing such transactions under provisions of usury laws; by Robbman, Hamilton, declaring void and contrary to public policy any contracts whereby employes agree to refrain from union membership and employers agree to stay out of employers' associations; by Marshall, of Greene, requiring the mailing of notices of proposed state, county and township road improvements.

The senate passed the Ott bill, raising salaries of state supreme, appellate and common pleas court judges, the counties to pay the increases on all except supreme court judges, and concurred in house amendments to the Gillen-Burnett bill, transferring control of state schools for the deaf and blind from the state welfare department to the state educational department. Both bills now go to the governor.

Official Enjoys Severe Cold When He is Called to Bury Mephitis Mephitis

THE path of duty of all public officials is not strewn and scented with roses. For proof of this, hear from Charles M. Tobin, city sanitary inspector.

Recently Mr. Tobin, whose work is considerably varied but relates chiefly to enforcing rules governing the city's health and sanitation, was called to Oakland Heights by the report that an animal known in scientific circles as the Mephitis Mephitis, had passed away in that locality and that no friends could be found to give it a decent burial.

The call came late at night and the sanitary inspector delayed his trip to the scene until the following morning.

He found the body of the defunct Mephitis Mephitis as reported and immediately decided that burial should not be delayed. It is the custom to have all dead animals hauled to the garbage disposal ground, west of the city, but in this case the sanitary officer felt that it would be an imposition to have the remains of the decedent conveyed through the residence districts.

Courageously and vicariously, and aided by the fact that he had a rather severe cold, he silently and speedily prepared a grave and interred the unmourned victim of the Grim Reaper.

By way of explanation, it might be mentioned that the Mephitis Mephitis is known in common parlance as a skunk.

A report of the death and burial was submitted to the Marion Board of Health at its meeting yesterday by Mr. Tobin.

ENDURANCE TEST CAR VISITS MARION AGAIN

Whippet on Seven-Day Non-Stop Drive Here Again Friday

Running on schedule, the Whippet coach on the seven day and night non-stop run came through Marion again last night on the third lap of the endurance test. The car arrived at 6:28 and left at 6:30 p. m.

Half an hour late leaving Columbus, the machine made up the time coming to Marion and on the arrival in Galion was 15 minutes ahead of schedule. The driver, who took the machine at Covington, Ky., at 11:30 yesterday morning, drove through to Canton last night and turned it over to another man, who drove the last lap of the third round to Toledo.

The machine starts from Toledo this morning on the fourth and last trip through Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio, a jaunt of more than 1,000 miles on each turn.

When the car came into Marion last night the mileage meter registered 3,884 miles. This represents an actual mileage of slightly more than 3,300 miles on this endurance run, which began at noon on April 2. The machine will travel close to 5,000 miles in seven days when the run closes at noon next Saturday in Toledo.

Five drivers, spaced at equal distance on the course, are relaying each other in the drive. So far the trip has been without incident, the machine responding to every demand made on it. There has not even been any tire trouble to mar the trip.

The Whippet will pass through Marion on the last lap of the run at 5:45 Firday morning, will go on to Toledo, over the Fort Wayne and back to Toledo for the end of the run there Saturday noon.

FILIPINO PLEBISCITE VETOED BY COOLIDGE

Independence of Island Yet Long Way Off, President's Action Reveals

Washington, April 7—Philippine independence, the goal toward which Filipino leaders have been struggling for years, is yet a long way off.

President Coolidge has vetoed the resolution of the Filipino legislature, providing for a plebiscite on independence, and in so doing bluntly informed the island people they are not ready for self-government.

A plebiscite on the subject, the president said, was a meaningless gesture that might "create friction, disturb business, and slow down progress." He characterized the move for a popular vote on the subject as "a part of the agitation in the islands which, by discouraging capital and labor, is delaying the arrival of the day when the Philippines will have overcome the most obvious present difficulty in the way of their maintenance of an unaided government."

"The people should realize," he said, "that political activity is not the end of life, but rather the means to attain those economic, industrial and social conditions essential to a stable existence."

"I AM ALSO THANKFUL"

Ruminated Bill Smith, as he reflectively eyed a small bit of roast suspended on the end of a wooden toothpick, "that I have learned I must not mix my friends up in my financial affairs. There is but one surer method of losing a friend than to loan him money, and that is to borrow from him.

"Just about every time you establish a relationship of borrower or borrowee with one of your friends, you might about as well bid your friendship farewell, for sooner or later something is going to come up to knock it higher than a kite.

"Marion Chattel Loan Co., 136 S. State-st. is the proper place to have one's financial needs satisfied. There is the place I go, and there is the place I send my friends. A good bit ago I learned to be thankful that there was such a place for me, and even more thankful that here I could safely guide those who wish to borrow from me, and I would still have friends."—Adv.

WAR FILM TO RETURN FOR THREE-DAY SHOWING

"America Under Fire" To Be Presented Again at Grand, Starting Monday

Due to its popularity, "America Under Fire" re-opens for a three-day engagement at the Grand Theater Monday, April 11, returning under the auspices of the Marion Chapter, Rainbow Women of Ohio, Dyer J. Bird Post.

Corporal "Bob" Ingleston, who accompanies this picture with a humorous descriptive lecture in the language of the doughboy, has returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., where he obtained a number of new pictures from the War Department.

The picture is of more than passing interest to the people of Marion, owing to the fact that a great many ex-service men who served with the 166th Ohio Infantry, Rainbow Division, are shown in the battle lines in "America Under Fire." These pictures are the pictorial records of the heroic American doughboys at Champagne, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne and bear the official approval of the War Department.

Inter-Class Baseball and Track to Flourish; Tennis Also May Be Prominent

Meeting To Be Held Tonight for Election of Various Team Leaders and Practice May Start Immediately; Inter-Scholastic Track Is Undecided as Yet

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

PROSPECTIVE candidates for Harding High's football eleven next fall will not don the moleskins for a preliminary round this spring, Coach Paul D. Sprout announced today. For the first time in years, spring grid practice has been abandoned in the local school.

Inter-class baseball and track and possibly inter-scholastic track, together with tennis, will be the flourishing sports at Harding High from now on until time for graduation. A meeting was to be called after school hours today for the election of captains or managers of the various class teams and practice will start immediately for the various track events and baseball. Coach Sprout will probably have charge of the festivities.

Less interest than ever has been shown in spring football practice during recent years at Harding and favorable results have been lacking. A number of youths may go out for spring practice and then be ineligible when the regular season rolls around or maybe not even be in school in the fall. The coach is certain to build up his hopes on the showing made by the boys in the spring and may have affairs all planned when school again begins, only to find that half of the youths that he had counted upon are not able to play for one reason or another.

New Equipment?

It is said that Harding High also needs new football equipment and that there are at present not enough suits to outfit a regular squad. If this rumor is true, and Harding must have new suits it would naturally not wish to purchase the equipment until next fall. This fact, in itself, would be enough to call an end to the spring session this year. Whether or not spring football will be abandoned for all time, is not known, but it is certain that those athletes who had planned on strutting their stuff in shoulder pads and headgears this spring will have to take their energy out in something else and be content in looking forward to the regular season in the fall.

Inter-class baseball has always been a regular event at Harding for several years but inter-class track has not been so popular. Varsity baseball has been discontinued in spite of the fact that Commissioner H. R. Townsend of Ohio high school athletics, has declared that he will bring about a revival of the sport one of these days.

No Cinder Track

Harding High has always been handicapped in track by the absence of a cinder track. Last year, that sport was not even considered but two years ago a number of local youths entered the meet at Delaware and had success in field events although weak in track performances. Just what will happen in the proposed inter-scholastic track will not be known for a few days. A number of athletes are boosting the game and if enough show interest arrangements will probably be made to at least enter the district meet at Delaware. If a cinder track was available, there probably would be no doubt of a successful track team. Harding has good material for both field and track events.

The inter-class track and field meet will probably be held at the Fairgrounds where the only track in the city, a dirt track, may be found.

Tennis

E. H. Shade, instructor at Harding High, will be in charge of tennis activities this spring. Last season, a local team went into the finals in the state tennis tourney although few candidates appeared for the sport. Little has been said concerning prospects this season and little will be known until after Easter.

HARDING HIGH CAGE BANQUET TONIGHT

Coach Ernest A. Godfrey of Wittenberg Main Speaker for Occasion

Coach Ernest A. Godfrey of Wittenberg, will be the chief speaker at the annual Harding High basketball banquet to be held at 6 o'clock tonight at the Harding Hotel.

The banquet is given for members of the basketball squad, managers, and other principals of the cage season of the local school. Awarding of letters or election of a captain for the coming season will not be held at the banquet it was said today.

The Harding High basketeers have enjoyed a number of banquets since the Delaware tournament, and this will be the closing event of the season.

LEADERS IN BOWLING TOURNEY UNCHANGED

Pin-Smashers Enter Final Spurts of Meet Today; End Comes Sunday

Peoria, Ill., April 7—Pin-smashers rolling in the A. B. C. tourney here, today enter the final spurts of the meet with standings of leaders at the start of yesterday's round of play unchanged. The tournament ends Sunday night.

A terrific bombardment of the pins by a squad of five-man teams last night failed to oust any of the 10 leaders. Although each team registered knockdowns well above the 2,800-mark, their shooting was about 901 pins short of putting them in the leaders class.

Of the trio, the Arcade five, Madison, Wis., were high with 2,803, Bay View recreation Milwaukee, rolled 2,800 and the O'Brien recreation of Ottawa totalled 2,811.

Joe West and Bert Hollenbeck of Buffalo were high among the two-man teams, but their 1,255 total did not put them among the leaders in the doubles. Caruana Brothers of Buffalo were among the day's topnotchers with 1,240.

In the individuals, J. Caspen of Syracuse, climbed into thirteenth place when he toppled 235, 214, and 227 to total 675 pins.

REISELT CHAMP

Philadelphia Billiard Player Back On Throne As Champion Of World

Chicago, April 7—Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, today was back on his throne as three-cushion billiard champion of the world.

Reiselt regained his title by winning his 300-point championship match with Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago, defending champion. The final 60-point block was played last night.

The match score was 300 to 240. Reiselt ran out of his final sixty points in 58 innings. His high run for the match was 6, against Kleckhefer's 5.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At Philadelphia—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, defeated Tom Kirby, Boston, 10 rounds. Al Bader of Philadelphia defeated Ted Coolidge, 6 rounds.

At Rochester, N. Y.—Joe Trippe of Rochester, knocked out Paris Cangey of Newcastle, Pa., second round. Otto Ziendorf of Syracuse, drew with Mike Marcelis of Rochester, 6 rounds. Art Wander of Buffalo drew with Joey Manuel of Rochester, 6 rounds.

HUGGINS WOULD CHANGE HURLER'S NAME

By NORMAN E. BROWN

It has been mentioned before that the uncertain qualities of Mr. Miller Huggins' pitching staff gives him his chief worry. His problem was lessened a trifle when Herb Pennock put a left-handed signature to a two-year contract after finishing second to Eddie Rough in the holdout free-for-all. But Hug still needs a consistent winning hurler to team with Pennock, Hoyt and Shocker.

And in George Pipgras, purchased from the St. Paul club last year, Hug hopes to find this fourth man.

Pipgras is no newcomer to the big show but this is in his favor at this time. Huggins feels that at last he has acquired the ability, poise and experience needed to carry him through.

"Pip" entered the majors in the spring of 1922 as a rookie with the Boston Red Sox. It was his second season in pro ball.

In the spring of 1923 the Yanks grabbed him and have kept a string on him right along. He was with Nashville two years ago and with St. Paul last year. With the Saints, a second division club, he won 22 and lost 19 games. Hugging hopes to make a "Pip-pin" of Pipgras.

NEW YORK LAD BEATS JOHNNY WEISSMULLER

George Kojac, Aged 17, Sets New World's Mark in 150-Yard Back Stroke

Chicago, April 7 — George Kojac, heretofore unknown, today holds the center of the spotlight in the National A. A. U. swimming championships in the Chicago Athletic Association pool.

Kojac, only 17, competing for the boys' club of New York City, suddenly leaped into fame last night by defeating Johnny Weissmuller, world famous I. A. C. star, in the 150-yard back stroke event.

It was the second time in Weissmuller's competitive career that he has tasted defeat. Kojac, who led Weissmuller at the finish by four lengths, set a new world's mark for this event. His time was 1:39 1-5, shattering Weissmuller's old world mark of 1:42.

Walter Spence of Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A. scored an easy victory in the 220-yard breast stroke event. His time was 2:47 3-5.

The Chicago A. A. team won the 400-yard relay race after a stiff battle with the New York A. C. swimmers. The winning time was 3:40 2-5.

The I. A. C. is now leading with 17 points. Chicago A. A. is second with 13, and Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. third with 10 points.

GODFREY'S KNOCKOUT UP TO COMMISSION

Oakland, Cal., April 7—George Godfrey's knockout of Jack Roper, Los Angeles heavyweight, was up before the boxing commission for review today. A low blow in the ninth sent Roper to the mat, rolling in pain. When he did not arise, Referee Wagner raised the hand of the Philadelphia colored boy. Physicians examining Roper immediately after the fight declared he had been fouled. Godfrey was leading on points at the time of the knockdown.

Boston Red Sox Team is Better Than for Many Seasons, Declares Walsh

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

...leans, April 7 — Al...body is predicting any ... for the Red Sox, the club ... better opposition to the ... American League teams than ... Boston outfit in years. ... off, the Red Sox will be ... under one of the greatest ... erals the game of baseball ... ured. Bill Carrigan. Con... the general opinion, Bill ... ten years absence from ... has failed to dim his ... intellect. In fact, Bill ... has matured very notice...ably since 1916 and judging from his coaching since the Red Sox started their spring training, he is quicker and keener in his baseball judgment.

Although Bill Carrigan knew but two players on the Red Sox roster, when he came here, he is now in possession of the strong points and weaknesses of every man on his squad.

Stronger Team

Last season the Red Sox were a listless half-hearted aggregation. After the first month or so of the 1926 season, they simply went through the motions. The spirit of the players had been killed and all they looked forward to was pay days and the end of the season.

The Red Sox have been strengthened, behind the bat, in the middle of the infield and in the other field. There is not a catcher here this spring who was with the club last season. Freddie Hofmann, the former Yankee receiver, who was up with St. Paul, is the first string Red Sox catcher this spring, with Grover Hartley, a veteran of many years of National League experience the runner up to Hofmann. Cliff Knox will be the third string receiver.

Only Two Left

Phil Todt and Fred Haney are the only members of the present Red Sox infield who were with the club a year ago. Topper Rigney, the former Detroit player did not report until after the season was under way while Bill Regan was not bought from Columbia until June.

Up until the time that Rigney was forced out of the game through injury, he and Regan were working in smooth fashion at short and second. Rigney is an exceptionally smart, hustling ball player, and although right now, "Pee Wee" Wanninger, reputed to have been the class of the American Association last season with St. Paul, is working with the first team, Rigner will get back in his old job. Wanninger has been fielding sensationally but he has failed to hit.

Promising Youngster

Jack Rothrock will be used as a utility infielder. He was with the Sox here last spring but was sent to Rochester of the International League for seasoning.

In Red Rollings, from Mobile, the Red Sox picked up a most promising youngster. Rollings is only 20 years old but he has been in the Cotton State League for three years and within two years should develop into a star.

Five Outfielders

The Red Sox will in all probabilities carry five outfielders this season. Johnnie Tobin, the veteran from the St. Louis Browns, has forced his way to the first team, replacing Walter Shauer. Ira Flagstead is back at his old berth in center field and is the same hustling sensation performer of old. In right will be Bill Jacobson, who at the present writing is leading the Red Sox with a batting average of .358.

Cleo Carlisle, who is a brother of the former Red Sox outfielder, and came to this club from Toronto has been a sensation. He is a hitting fool and every ball he smacks is hit on the nose. Along with his unwanny batting eye, Carlyle is a real fielder.

There are eight pitchers who were with the Red Sox last season and they will all retain their jobs, at least, until the final cut is made on June 15. Among the newcomers are Fred Bradley, the former Kansas University boy, whose only professional experience came from his four months with the Tojeka club last summer and Rudie Sommers, the veteran southpaw from Columbus. Jack Wilson, a rookie from the Sanford club of the Florida State League, is liable to ease one of last year's hurlers out of a job.

Mara Declares Tunney Has Lead Over All Others Now in Heavyweight Field

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 7—It may be of ... interest to Gene Tunney to ... that his ex-friend and now severest ... without a contest, Tim Mara ... the champion as cake walk, a ... against the field of heavyweight ... contenders as they stand today. ... a successful race track bookmaker, the quoting of odds with him ... no object provided it is someone ... and he is one of a most ... whose Dintero rode with ... against Dempsey, therefore his ... is wisdom until such time as ... and better ones turn up.

He, however, named Tunney as a ... today with at least one reservation to the effect that all bets were ... if Dempsey succeeded in coming ... to his 1923 form, it being his contention that Jack Kearns and not Gene Tunney, beat the ex-champion. Lacking definite knowledge of Dempsey's condition, Mara intimated that he was forced to regard Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney as the best of the contenders and here again another reservation was interpolated.

About Loughran

It was to the effect that Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight, must not be considered a member of the field.

"I think Loughran can beat all of them except Tunney," Mara said. "He's too fast and too smart for the rest of these fellows and I think they know it. Anyhow, I notice that none of them is giving him a tumble.

"Against Delaney for the light heavyweight title I'd regard Loughran as a sure thing and bet that way. However if Dempsey could come back like old Jack, he would beat them all, Tunney included. I figured Kearns would break him down with legal worries, bet heavily on the idea and at Philadelphia I saw Kearns win that fight, instead of Tunney. Still, you can't consider Dempsey until he shows something beside a hospital bill and a lot of skin eruptions."

Dempsey-Tunney

The Dempsey-Tunney fight was the first of Mara's two betting coups of the last twelve-month. The other was the Maloney-Delaney match, where Mara took the short end of 2 1-2 to 1 on Maloney and cleaned up. Now he is inclined to like Maloney over Sharkey on May 19.

"They appeal to me as the stand-out pair in the field just now," he said, "and of the two, I like Maloney. This fellow Paolina will go just so far and no further, as I see him. Heeney won't do and Delaney and McTigue have been relegated to the class where they belong.

"It would be a joke to send Dempsey in with that bunch if Jack had any part of his old stuff. But the easy life he has led and the trouble with his spine and his blood leaves him open to serious question on this come back thing. If he went in with Tunney tomorrow, I'd bet all the money I could raise against him. But if he proved he really can come back, I would bet just as readily the other way.

Tunney Leads

"As it is, I can't blind myself to Tunney's lead over the others, in spite of the fact that I have been forced to bring suit against him. Nobody realizes just how good Tunney is. He's a poor showman; otherwise, his fine defense, his excellent head and accurate hitting would have impressed more people. And I have neglected to add his most important asset, the care he takes of himself. Say what you will about Gene Tunney, he'll always be ready."

"BOXING MONOPOLIES" CAN NO LONGER EXIST

New York Athletic Commission Adopts Ruling Against "Blanket" Contracts

New York, April 7—So-called "boxing monopolies" can no longer exist in New York state as a result of the action of the New York State Athletic commission in adopting a ruling against "blanket" contracts — agreements covering options on services of boxers for stated time limits—except where opponents and dates are specified.

The ruling means that promoters cannot hold boxers to such agreements if they desire to break away and sign with other promoters. It was pointed out that Gene Tunney, for instance is not bound to the contract he signed with Promoter Tex Rickard in St. Louis last January because neither the champion's next opponent nor the date and location of the bout is named.

Although the ruling gives other promoters an equal chance against Rickard, the leading impresario in these parts, it was not believed that Tex would lose the next heavyweight championship bout. Promoter Humbert Fugazy, for one, declared he was not interested in signing Tunney, although it was reported that Fugazy is dickering in for a match between Paolino Uzcudun and Harry Wills and also for a match involving Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight.

COULTER'S VOLLEYBALL TEAM TAKES LEAGUE

Finishes Season with No Defeats; Clark's Crew Second with One Downfall

The volleyball team captained by Coulter was last night declared winner of the third volleyball league of the season formed among Marion Business Men. Coulter's crew won five games and suffered no defeats during the league sessions. It cinched the title last night in the final game of the season by defeating Murphy's outfit 33 to 19.

Clark's aggregation finished in second place. It won the final clash last night from Cunningham's team 33 to 22. Cunningham completed the league circuit in the cellar, losing all five games. Murphy's team was in third place as the season closed.

Brown defeated Hildebrandt's team last night 28 to 26, in a hot battle on the Y. M. C. A. court.

The contests last night marked the close of the volleyball season in Marion although the regular Y. M. C. A. team will journey to Ft. Wayne in May to take part in the national tournament there.

ROWING IS STRAIN

A four-mile rowing contest is declared to be a much greater strain on an athlete than a marathon race of 25 miles.

FARRELL FOR JACKSON

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

The forced absence of Travis Jackson, brilliant young shortstop from the New York Giants' lineup, due to the recent operation for appendicitis in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital, hits temporarily at least, the Giants' pennant chances. Manager McGraw will be forced to fill his shoes at least until May 1. It is probable that Eddie Farrell, young college rookie, will be tossed into the breach.

TRAVIS JACKSON
GIANT SHORTSTOP

EDDIE FARRELL

While Farrell has not the experience and finesse of young Jackson, which the latter has acquired through five campaigns and two world's series, the former has proved his ability to fill an infield utility role capably ever since the day McGraw tossed him into the lineup twenty-four hours after his arrival from the University of Pennsylvania in June, 1925.

He broke into 53 games at short last season, hit .286 and fielded well. Illness forced Jackson out of about the same number of games.

Celtics Trim Rosenblums in First of World Series

Cleveland, April 7— Cleveland will try to square accounts with the Brooklyn Celtics here tonight in the second game of the world's basketball series.

The Celtics won the first game here last night 29 to 21. At the end of the first half the score was tied—14-14.

Holman and Lopshick for Brooklyn and Husta for Cleveland were individual stars.

The Celtics, living up to their well known reputation, displayed a swift, split-second passing game which kept the Clevelanders dizzy at times. Cleveland led the way, point by point, to the end of the first half when the Shamrocks breezed alongside and from then on it was nothing but Brooklyn. Husta was unable to do any damage in the last period because of Banks' wonderful interference. The Ohioans apparently lost their aim completely in the second half.

Following the second game of the three-out-of-five series the teams will leave for New York to continue the battle.

In the preliminary game, Newman Sterns, of Cleveland, the world champion girls' basketball team, defeated the Taylor Trunks of Chicago, regarded as the foremost contenders for the title, 32 to 10.

LAST WORKOUT

Berkeley, Cal., April 7— Crews of both the University of Washington and the University of California indulged today in the last full workout for the race Saturday over the Oakland estuary for the West Coast rowing title.

HOCKEY WORLD SERIES

Boston, April 7—World's series in hockey gets under way tonight at the arena as the Bruins and Ottawa Senators of the National Hockey League meet in the first of the best three out of five series.

ISN'T IT ODD?

Isn't it odd? Southern training trips and fabulous salaries were unheard of by the old-time baseball players, yet they played just as good brand of ball and worked oftener than the present-day group.

QUIT GETTING UP NIGHTS

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic, Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Carl G. Ungericht, druggist.—Adv.

ONLY EIGHT REMAIN IN NORTH-SOUTH GOLF MEET

Pinehurst, N. C., April 7—The United North and South amateur golf championship today had narrowed down to eight contenders in the championship flight.

George Voigt, of Washington, the medalist was paired today with Ira Couch Chicago.

Other pairings were C. John Dawson, Chicago, and Eugene Homans, Englewood, N. J.; Richard Wilson, Southern Pines, N. C., and George Dunlap, Jr., New York; Joseph Crawford, Pittsburgh, and J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y.

TRAINER DEAD

Dover, England, Apr. 7—Jack Wiedman, trainer of many English Channel swimmers, is dead at his home here. Wiedman was 65. He claimed to have discovered the fast current route which Gertrude Ederle followed when she swam the channel.

Three Greatest Amateur Basketball Games of Season on Program Friday

THE basketball season in Marion will ... decidedly close Friday night with ... three of the greatest amateur games ever played on the same ... The contests will be staged on the Y. M. C. A. lower court and will be in the nature of benefit attractions for the Sunday School Leagues.

The main go of the night will feature the Midway Lunches against the East Side Aces, two of the best amateur teams in the city and county, although the Midways are considered on the edge of semi-professionalism.

Howitzers vs. Juniors

Howitzers, runners up in the county amateur journey, will clash with the Juniors of '26 in the second game Friday night. Howitzers have trimmed the Juniors on one occasion this year, having knocked them off in the semi finals of the county tournament. The Juniors will be glad to have another crack at them, however, and Howitzers evidently are not afraid of the results.

The first game of the night, to get under way at 7 o'clock, will see the Midgets and Epworth M. E. cagers in a floor battle. These two teams met in the finals of Class B last Friday night, Epworth won. But the Midgets want another stab at their opponents and the Epworths are only too glad to accommodate them.

While the first two games will be enough to draw a large crowd of spectators in themselves, Physical Director F. O. Rudolph, who is in charge of the arrangements, has planned the third and greatest amateur cage tilt seen in Marion this year. The East Side Aces against the Midway Lunches.

The Aces met one defeat at the hands of the Midways on a previous occasion this season when the two met on the Star Auditorium floor in a preliminary event to an Isaly contest. But they have Shults at back guard now and have been showing a better brand of basketball in recent games. That means a final tussel, regardless of the "dope bucket."

The games are set for 7 o'clock, Epworth and Midgets will play first. Howitzers and Juniors will meet at 8 o'clock, and the Aces and Midways will clash in the final big basketball game of the present season in Marion. The final contest is scheduled for 9 o'clock.

PHILLIES

Finished last in 1920. Sold one of their big league catchers and a good outfielder last winter. Have no one in sight to replace fading Meluuis at best. Depending on a minor leaguer at second and an uncertain outfield and run-of-the-mine pitching staff, improved possibly by acquisition of Jack Scott and Alex Ferguson, two pitchers but men whose recent record hold little hope.

Whatever success tops may enjoy will be due to the efforts of Stuffy Melunis, embarking on maiden voyage at big league pilot.

Jean Borotra, who again has displayed his prowess with the racquet by winning the United States singles championship (indoor), comes of a tennis family. In addition to his younger brother Edward, who shares with him the French clay court doubles title, there was a third brother, Frederick, now dead, who was tennis champion of France some years ago.

Easy to check Catarrh NOW!

Many endure catarrh because they do not know how easy it is to end it. Salves and ointments give only temporary relief. Catarrh is too deep-seated for them to reach effectively.

To end catarrh you must treat the inflamed mucous membranes—the delicate linings of nose, throat and head. When these are again in a healthy condition, catarrh, and catarrhal deafness disappear.

To do this use Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Thousands have found it most effective for over 40 years. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Tomorrow will be Friday, and it is going to be washed all over on account of they want to make a statute of me and have it covered with clay, so it will stand all weather before my aut thinks it is time for me wash all over again. I am not anxious to be let down out in the yard these mornings, and the way the cows looks at me he must think it is about time for vacation.

I let him down and then I went to the house and took out the ashes and made a fire and then I took the milk-pail and went out to the barn to milk the cows and when I opened the barn door there was the old cow waiting to get in and she had got her rope off and had been thinking about the matter all night and she put her head down and started out one side of the door and I hollered and got in front of her and then I got in front of her on the other side of the door, and when we had done that two or three times and Jubilee had got her excited by looking at her she put her head down and charged and I turned around to run just when she was lifting her head up and the next I knew I was hanging on one of her horns by the waistband of my pants and we were half ways out of the yard and going strong.

We were half ways out of the yard and going strong

All I could think about was that the gate was so narrow that when she went out of it she would smash me against the post and then Jubilee got her by the head or something and she whirled around to horn him and I flew off of her horn and came down flat in the road and then Nibs and Peanuts were there and stood in the gate so she didn't dast try to go out there and she ran around and around the yard and mooed every once in a while.

By that time my grandfather and my unkle and my father had heard the noise and came out and she made a run at them and my father turned around and ran over my grandfather because he has got a flat wheel and can't get out of the way quick, and by then Nibs had got a loose picket off the fence and he got hold of the cow's tail and played on her ribs with the picket, and she went back in the barn and him after her like the tail of a kite, and we got her tied up. She'd have gone clear to the pasture if she had got loose.

My grandfather said, "In the spring an old cow's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." But he only had to look at me to know she wasn't loving me. My clothes had to be washed and dried before I could go to school. If I had my way I would kill all the cows and use condensed milk.

Peter's Adventures

A Story for Boys and Girls

BY FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

"WHY LIZARD LINGERED LONGER"

"HERE we are at the marsh edge!" cried Peter. "Now, Chickadee, all we have to do is to locate that fallen log and we will soon find out whether your friend, the Blue Lizard, has crawled away or lingered where Woodpecker dropped him. Poor little creature! Perhaps the fall hurt him."

Chickadee, however, had not heard what Peter said, or, if he had, paid no attention. He had taken to his wings and was flying low. Suddenly he rose into the air, then alighted by the boy's side, fluttering his wings in great excitement.

"There is something lying on the ground half hidden by those raggety Cat-Tails. We come to the marsh by a different route than I flew to it this morning, and I have almost lost my bearings, but I believe it is——"

Peter, who had been looking around on his own account, now interrupted his fluttering friend.

"The log!" cried the boy, finishing Chickadee's sentence for him, and Peter ran straight towards it. Chickadee half-flying, half-skipping after him. And the log it was, but it was the bird's bright eyes that first caught sight of the creature they had come to find.

"Oh, boy, a bit of blue. I see a bit of blue!" chirped Chickadee.

And sure enough, there beside the log lay a funny little object about six inches long. Four little feet, each with five tiny toes, were spread out flat on each side of a smooth shiny black body. Peter was just going to cry out that they had come upon the wrong Lizard when he spied the creature's tail. It was blue, just as blue as could be, and tapered to a point. It reminded him of a tiny whip. Now the bit of blue wriggled slightly, and the little creature winked his lidded eyes and stuck out a feeble tongue, but that was all. Lizard made no effort to run away from the bird and the boy. Peter knelt beside him.

"I believe the poor little chap is cold," said he. "I am going to try to warm him." No sooner had the boy put his hands upon Lizard than he gave a shrill cry.

"Cold!" exclaimed he. "Why, Lizard is almost frozen. His body feels like a piece of ice. I must start his blood to circulating if I can." The boy began to rub the shiny black back with firm, even strokes. Chickadee looked anxious.

"I do not believe you can do much good," he chirped. "You see, a Lizard, like Snake, is cold-blooded, and do what you will you cannot warm up his blood. Move his legs up and down. That may make him feel better."

By this time both the bird and the boy understood why Lizard had not glided off into the marsh grasses when Chickadee had dropped him. The poor fellow had lingered longer by the log simply because he couldn't help it. He was as near to being an icicle as any Lizard would care to come.

Incredulity may at times seem churlish, but credulity, too often enables another to make a fool of you.

If it had been intended that Adam should have more wives, he would have been endowed with more ribs.

N. Y. C. COMMON STOCK LISTED ABOVE 150

Buyers Show Decided Favoritism for Groups with Good Records

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks strong; industrial stocks strong; domestic bonds steady; foreign bonds firm; call money 4 per cent; grain steady; copper irregular; oil weak; cotton steady; rubber steady; sugar irregular; pig iron steady; foreign exchange irregular.

New York, April 7—Leadership in the upward movement of stock prices was afforded today by the better grade of dividend-paying stocks in the railroad and industrial groups. In this respect the market, though active, was discriminating, and the speculative issues were thrown overboard in favor of the standard stocks of companies with the most favorable earnings records.

General Motors corporations reported a new high record of output for March, with 161,000 cars and trucks against 138,360, the previous record. Retail sales aggregated 140,000 cars, a gain of 34,000 over March of last year.

Crossing 150 for the first time in its history, New York Central common stock was the outstanding bull leader in the railroad group. The commission houses reported an almost nation-wide demand for the stock, with offerings so contracted that the stock jumped 2 1-8 points at the opening. The usual list of active dividend-paying rails moved forward impressively, while the non-dividend issues were neglected, with the possible exception of New Haven and Western Maryland.

The two telephone stocks, A. T. T. and I. T. T., led a brilliant move in the investment industrials, pushing steel common and General Motors out of the spotlight. American Tel. & Tel. sold above 172 on reports that the new television invention would be made commercially practicable, while International Tel. & Tel. recorded a new high above 135.

Better buying of steel was reported, and the earnings of the so-called independent steel manufacturers for the first quarter of this year are expected to make a very favorable showing, as the result of which Bethlehem, Republic, Vanadium and other companies will inaugurate or increase dividend payments this year. The commodity markets were quiet, and call money was in supply at 4 per cent.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

While stocks of fruits and vegetables were large today, dealers were looking for something of a shortage in some lines over the week-end, if the cold weather hangs on. For the last few weeks cold weather has hampered shipments from the south, and at one time shut them off entirely.

Strawberries have not yet come into the maket strong since the cold spell of two weeks ago, when the price shot up because of the failure of shipments to arrive. Shippers are not sending their fruit through when the temperature is too low.

There are large supplies of new carrots and new turnips on hand now. The carrots are selling for 10 cents a bunch and the turnips for 10 cents a pound.

The drop in new potatoes held today, with sale strong for the new variety. Old potatoes are scarce and sales are few.

The wholesale price increase in eggs also held up today but has not affected the retail price. Fresh eggs may be bought at local stores for 25 cents a dozen and from farmers and in smaller towns for as low as 22 cents a dozen.

YOUTH INJURED HERE IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Clarence Tanner, 10, Kenton, Hurt in Marion Steam Shovel Co. Yards

Clarence Tanner, 10, of Kenton, who suffered a cut on his head when he got into the Marion Steam Shovel Co. yard Sunday afternoon, and fell against the beam of a steam shovel, is reported in a serious condition in Kenton today.

The boy was visiting at the home of W. O. Orians, Hane-av, Sunday, with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Tanner. With two other boys about his age he got into the steam shovel yard, it was said, and while playing there, fell and cut his head. The wound was sewed up by a local physician and the lad was taken home. An infection developed in the wound, and his condition has been serious since Tuesday.

April Fools' day, or All-Fools day, the name given to the first of April in allusion to the custom of playing practical jokes on friends or neighbors on that day, or sending them on fools' errands, is in some way or other a relic of "the good old days" centuries ago when all the known world celebrated the event with parties gay. Its origin is cloaked in mystery, but as far back as history reveals there has always been connected with it the spirit of fooling.

Still, it is no practical joke with you if today finds you sorely in need of ready cash. The City Loan will cheerfully hear your story and loan you the money, which you can pay back according to your ability to pay, and you won't have to go to the trouble of bothering your personal friends. There is no April Fool about the transaction—it is a simple business matter.

MEASURE WILL NOT BE VOTED ON, IS BELIEF

Senate Group, Holding Act Openly Hostile, Report; Hearing Held

Prediction that the Hill anti Sunday dance bill will never come to a vote in the Ohio Senate but will be shelved by the committee which now has the measure in its hands was made at Columbus today following final hearing held on the proposal last night.

This forecast is made in spite of the fact that last night's hearing, which was announced as final, found advocates of the bill out in full force and fighting harder than ever for victory.

The senate county affairs committee, which is considering the bill in the closing proceedings, is openly hostile and it is chiefly that fact which provides basis for the belief that it will not recommend a vote in the senate.

Hectic Hearing

The hearing last night was not only lively and spirited, like the sessions which preceded it during the last few weeks, but was several degrees warmer, reaching a point that was almost savored of war.

The charge that the Hill proposal, which was introduced in the legislature by H. E. Hill, representative from Marion County, is unfair because it discriminates against one particular class of Sunday amusement, was one of the main points argued last night.

This point was stressed by Fred E. Guthery, Marion attorney who was one of the main speakers, and by Dr. George T. Harding of Columbus, former Marion man, who also spoke against the bill.

Mr. Guthery, who appeared as a representative of the Crystal Lake Park Amusement Co. of this city, wanted to know why Mr. Hill did not propose prohibiting automobile riding, purchase of gasoline and other activities connected with Sunday amusements aside from Sunday dancing and roller skating.

Guthery occupied the floor almost a half hour. He also defended Sunday dancing and other amusements on the Sabbath as essential for the welfare and entertainment of working men, who, he said, have few opportunities for recreation on week-days. He said that when men plan to become employed in a community, one of their first inquiries is ordinarily in regard to recreation facilities.

Reaches Climax

The hearing reached a climax near its closing, about midnight, when Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Mahoning County, informed Mr. Hill that he will attempt to have the measure amended so as to prohibit Sunday auto riding and golf playing. This ultimatum was issued after Roberts failed to get a definite answer from Hill as to whether he regards auto driving and golf on Sunday as immoral.

Several senators, members of the county affairs committee, took the floor and spoke against the bill, indicating plainly what their action will be in regard to recommendations on the proposal.

Five speakers were trying to get the floor about midnight when Chairman Bender announced that the committee had heard sufficient argument and would adjourn. The committee will meet in executive session next Wednesday night to decide upon its course of procedure.

Bitterness Apparent

The bitterness which cropped out during the session last night was illustrated by a statement from Senator Roberts, who proclaimed, "I am against commercialization of the Sabbath, even to hear a lot of rotten preachers."

A large number of ministers were present, not only as speakers, but in the crowd which jammed the lobby. In the midst of the uproar, Rev. S. A. Blessing of Miami county, member of the house, who wears his ecclesiastical garb in the legislature, hotly characterized the performance as a "farce."

"If you think it Christian to shut off debate, as was done in the house committee, I don't," shot back Chairman Bender, senator from Cleveland. "As long as I'm chairman, everybody will have a chance to be heard. If the proponents have brought up a subject which produces laughter, that's something I can't control."

Uproarious Session

Easily the most uproarious session of the county affairs committee this year, according to reports from Columbus, the meeting was enlivened by clashes between Dr. Harding and Rev. Frank J. Niles, lobbyist for the Lord's Day Alliance; between Senator Roberts and Representative Hill; between Senator L. L. Marshall of Cleveland and Hill; between Fred E. Guthery and Hill and between Rev. John Malick, Unitarian minister, and Rev. Mr. Niles.

"It's not often we get a chance to get this close to a Lord's Day Alliance man," said Rev. Mr. Malick, who appeared as a speaker against the bill.

The bill has already passed the house, where it received a majority of one vote. Defeat in the senate, should it actually reach a vote there, is regarded as certain by persons conversant with the situation.

Marion men in attendance at last night's hearing, in addition to Guthery and Hill, were Fred B. Scherff, manager of the Crystal Lake Park Amusement Co. and Charles E. Merkel.

TWO BOYS GIVEN INDETERMINATE REFORM TERMS

Leroy Dorf and Marion Darnell Sentenced to Correctional Institutions

Two more Marion boys will go to state correctional institutions soon, as a result of indeterminate sentences in the Lancaster Industrial School being passed on Leroy Dorf, 15, and Marion Darnell, 13, this morning by Judge Louis B. McNeal in juvenile court.

The boys were caught in the office of the Kelly Island Lime & Transport Co. Sunday afternoon, where they had attempted to open the safe with a sledge hammer. They were caught by John Roberts, foreman of the company, as they were about to leave the office building through a window which they had forced in gaining entrance.

Judge McNeal held a hearing at the Detention Home Wednesday afternoon at which the boys told their stories. Their stories varied so with the other testimony that Judge McNeal said he could not give them anything but a sentence to Lancaster.

The testimony did agree on one point, concerning the action of the Dorf boy in trying to hit Roberts in the head with a rock. The boy admitted this part of the affair.

The sentencing of these two boys brings the number of Marion youths sent to state institutions since Jan. 1, to 18. The others were rounded up in a series of juvenile robberies and other crimes in February.

Petition Filed

Petition to set aside a verdict in favor of the Credit Loan & Discount Co. has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Thomas Ballinger, a minor, through Francis Davis. The judgment was given on a note which Ballinger gave on an automobile purchase for $118. He claims he was not notified of the hearing until after judgment had been given.
